Azad raps Cong, contrasts it with Modi's 'humanity'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

GHULAM Nabi Azad, who ended his long association with the Congress last week, on Monday said he was forced to leave the party. Launching a fresh attack on the Congress, he said, "I can only give my best wishes to the party, but it needs medicines more than my wishes. And, these medicines are being provided by compounders instead of doctors."

On some Congress leaders' charge that he was close to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Azad said he had mistakenly assumed Modi was a crude man. "At least he (Modi) has shown humanity," he said referring to the PM's emotional speech on his farewell in Parliament. He said the speech was in the context of a terror incident in Kashmir during his tenure as J&K CM in 2006, while Modi was the Gujarat CM. Four tourists from Gujarat were killed and six others injured when terrorists lobbed grenades at their bus. "When the Gujarat CM called, I was crying loudly... I asked him for two planes, one for the dead and the other for the injured. He (Modi) turned emotional while referring to my state," Azad said.

Pradhan could be Nadda successor as BJP president

But incumbent could get one-year extension

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@ New Delhi

AMID the Congress deciding to elect a new party president in mid-October, a bit of churning on BJP national president J P Nadda's successor has already begun within the ruling party. His first three-year term in office ends in January next.

Speculation is rife that Union education minister Dharmendra Pradhan could be handed over the baton if the Big Two in the party decide against giving Nadda an extension. Two ideas are floating around on Nadda's extension — for one year till the next general elections or for a full three-year term. The national president of the party can have a maximum of two consecutive terms in office.

A senior leader said: "If Nadda does not get one-year extension, Pradhan could be his successor. Another name in circulation is Bhupendra Yadav."

However, the possibility of Nadda getting a one-year extension is bright since he has served the party well, another source said. "BJP's performance in many states improved under Nadda's leadership," the leader pointed out. But he may not get a full second term.

Pradhan brings to the table his deep experience in organisational matters and has excellent negotiating skills. He cut his organisational teeth while working with the ABVP during his student life. "He is sharp and witty and has the ability to forge alliances with like-minded parties," said a BJP leader.

Pradhan is also considered a troubleshooter in the Arun Jaitley mould. Prime Minister Narendra Modi assigns him tasks whenever the party faces problems and he is known to sort them out tactfully. When the government struggled to implement the National Education Policy, 2020, during Ramesh Pokhriyal's stint as Union education minister, Modi stripped him of the charge and handed it over to Pradhan last year.

As for Bhupendra Yadav, he has recently been inducted in the party's Central Election Committee. "But Pradhan is way ahead in the race to replace Nadda whenever that happens," a BJP leader said.

Hundreds of houses were damaged, food grains and standing crops destroyed and thousands of livestock killed due to the impact of heavy rain. Motorists taking the highway had a tough time and a private bus carrying passengers was stranded on the highway.

"An NDRF team comprising 25 personnel has been deployed for rescue operations, five relief centres - four at Channapatna and one in Ramanagara - are being set up. About 900 people are being served food in relief centres since Saturday," said Dr Avinash Menon Rajendran, Deputy Commissioner, Ramanagara district. Train services were partially affected as some trains were delayed but resumed later after water was drained out from Ramanagara and Channapatna stations, he said. P4

@ Chitradurga

PONTIFF of Murugha Mutt Dr Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru on Monday submitted an application for anticipatory bail before the Second Additional District and Sessions Judge. Police are investigating a case filed under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act registered against the seer.

The court ordered the issuance of notices to the public prosecutor, complainant and the victims of the case as mentioned in the complaint and directed the prosecutor to file objections, if any, to the bail application and posted the hearing for September 1.

Meanwhile, the Child Welfare Committee (CWC) team took the victims — two girls aged 15 and 16 — to the alleged place of crime at Murugha Mutt in Chitradurga as part of investigation.

The Deputy Commissioner, CWC members and a member of the NGO, Odanadi, Mysuru, were also present with the investigators.

BBMP to fix parking fares and call for tenders, DULT proposes Rs 25-75 per hour fee

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government on Monday gave the green signal to Parking Policy 2.0 for Bengaluru, which was a proposal sent by the Directorate of Urban Land Transport (DULT). BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said the BBMP will fix parking fares and then call for tenders.

The fee proposed by DULT is around Rs 25 to 75 per hour based on the location. DULT has proposed the parking policy to streamline traffic, bring discipline among vehicle owners, cut down air pollution and encourage people to switch to public transport. Earlier, ten stretches, including Brigade Road, Commercial Street and St Marks Road, were under the pay-and-park system, and now, more roads in the Central Business District and commercial areas will be brought under the system.

DULT had prepared a comprehensive study report two years ago to curb the inflow of new and private into the city. The new policy will be implemented in collaboration with BBMP, DULT and Bengaluru Traffic Police.

The objective of the new policy is to organise parking and move from government-driven parking supply to market driven parking supply and management in eight zones in the city. Earlier, the Palike had planned to implement the system on 85 roads and with the government giving nod for the new parking policy, the Palike will now identify more roads to check the feasibility of bringing them under the system.

BBMP marks 50 flood-prone localities

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH the IMD predicting rain for the next few days, the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) has identified 50 flood-hit areas, and as a precautionary measure, has deployed earthmovers to keep major storm water drains clear and avert flooding in low-lying areas, BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said.

BBMP has also deployed water pumps in Pai Layout, Sai Layout and HSR Layout, and as and when streets are getting flooded, water is being pumped out to nearby drains, he said.

Girinath told reporters that with rain forecast for Bengaluru and surrounding areas, precautionary measures are being taken by the BBMP. "Till the problem is solved with permanent measures, rainwater will be pumped out," he said.

Reacting to the pothole menace which has escalated following rain, Girinath said he has asked officials to use cold mix and cover the potholes, and once the rainy season ends, to use hot mix to fix the potholes.

AAP members court arrest during their attempt to inaugurate the Shivananda Flyover in Bengaluru on Monday

AAP members attempt to open Shivananda Flyover

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A number of Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) members were taken into protective custody when they tried to 'inaugurate' the Shivananda Circle Flyover on Monday.

The protestors hung a huge banner terming the structure as a '40% Commission Flyover'. The closed flyover has been a subject to much criticism after its closure last week due to poor conditions. Criticism had come from AAP as well as citizens, including former Police Commissioner Bhaskar Rao who had compared the drive on the flyover to driving over speed breakers.

"Even after spending double the actual cost of the flyover, the quality of the flyover is pathetic. The BJP government has looted the taxpayers' money," said Mohan Dasari, AAP Bengaluru city president, who was one of the detained.

"They had spent Rs 39 crore over five years to complete the flyover though the original cost was Rs 19 crore. On top of that, the quality of the flyover is pathetic. We had tried to highlight this, showing that this is also part of the 40% commission racket, by inaugurating the flyover," said Ashok Mruthyunjaya, AAP spokesperson.

The flyover has been in the works since 2011, with the state cabinet approving Rs 19 crore for its construction in 2017. Following the extension of the flyover, an additional Rs 20 crore was sanctioned for the project, raising the cost to Rs 39 crore. The flyover was to be inaugurated on August 15. A part of the flyover had been opened to the public but was shut down a week later on August 21, following complaints of poor quality. Citizens had complained of vibrations, expansion joints similar to speed bumps and uneven surfaces on flyover.

Consumer panel directs RComm to pay ₹25K for sending fake bills

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

HOLDING Reliance Communications Limited (RCL) responsible for unfair trade practice, the Third Additional Bangalore Urban District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission directed the company to pay Rs 25,000 compensation to a consumer.

Partly allowing the complaint filed by complainant R Hema, the Commission comprising president K Shivarama and member KS Raju directed RCL to pay her Rs 25,000, including Rs 10,000 towards damages, Rs 5,000 towards mental agony and hardship, and Rs 10,000 as litigation cost. Hema is a resident of Rajajinagar in Bengaluru.

The Commission noted that the complainant contended that though there was no actual usage of internet for more than a year and a half, a bill dated November 11, 2015, was issued with an ulterior motive to make illegal money. The complainant also submitted a legal notice dated December 1, 2015, calling upon RCL to refund the security deposit, and the company assured it would be refunded, but did not do so. Hence, RCL's act amounts to breach of trust. "We feel the non-refund of security deposit amounts to deficiency of service on the part of RCL," the Commission said.

Hema had subscribed for an RCL broadband connection in October 2013, and was using it till April 2014, till the date of its disconnection, and paid the due amount. In April 2014, an RCL executive informed her that disconnection was done due to non-availability of distribution point in the area. When she called customer care, she was informed that alternative arrangements would be made immediately.

To the complainant's surprise, she received a bill for Rs 616 in May 2014 for usage charges, though there was no broadband connection. In view of a promise made that it would be adjusted in future bills on restoration of the connection, she paid that bill too. But the connection was never restored, and when she requested RCL for her security deposit, the company failed to refund the amount.

On November 11, 2015, RCL sent a broadband bill for Rs 12,351, prompting the complainant to move the Commission. Apart from denying allegations, RCL also contended that the Commission has no jurisdiction, which the Commission rejected, and ordered RCL to pay compensation.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

30th August: I'm always being asked whether I can guess people's signs. The answer is - sometimes. The fact is that knowing astrology does not confer some magical ability to read people's minds, so I usually decline the invitation to guess. Also, there are often many more important factors in your chart than just your birth sign. It's a complicated matter!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You're good at picking winners. At least, that's the current indication. I'd say that the two key considerations at the moment are that you follow methods which are tried, tested and reliable - and look at the minutiae of the situation, rather than the big picture.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
This does not have to be a week of discord, disagreements and conflict, but that's just what it could be if you succumb to frustration and impatience. As you know, it's much better to give people a second chance, especially at home. Why not follow your own advice?

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The main Geminian danger lies in trying to be too clever. The planetary signs strongly advise you to learn the lessons of the past! Look again at advice from people you know and trust. You might not have taken any notice so far, but now could be a good time to make up for that!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Domestic discussions should be pursued with great vigour. Being diplomatic and considerate is quite compatible with standing up for your rights. It's just a question of arranging all your points in order before you open your mouth, and getting partners to listen.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
In many ways it's a favourable day, but it all depends how you handle today's generally loose, laid-back and highly individualistic circumstances. You'll do best to stick to your principles, but there doesn't seem to be any real reason why you can't be infinitely flexible when it comes to the details.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Try not to invite trouble or discord by saying anything in haste or in anger. The plain fact is that the nicer you are to other people, the more pleasant they'll be to you. Simple, isn't it? Plus, you may have forgotten a number of important facts. You might even have lost a vital piece of paper!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You ought soon to be free from a lot of unnecessary pressure, and also from unwanted commitments. You are therefore ready to take the path of universal love, a concept which I know is treated with some scepticism in certain circles! Still, that's no reason for you to be cynical.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Even those people with whom you have had profitable dealings in the past are now likely to use unorthodox methods in a vain attempt to gain the upper hand. Don't worry: they're suffering from a bad bout of over-confidence, and they'll be brought back down to earth soon.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The overwhelming emphasis is still on travel plans, which today look optimistic, enthusiastic and confident. Such stars always carry with them a warning to consciously check all details, especially regarding legal queries. By the way, you may be embarking on a journey of the spirit or the mind.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
In many respects it's a Capricornian moment, a time to slow down and make sure your life is resting on firm foundations. There's still a lot of life in the old goat yet and now is also the time to revive long-term dreams with a view to completion next year.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
For someone who is supposed to leap before they look, you have certainly been changing your spots, becoming more cautious by the hour. Perhaps it's because you realise that your choices will only work if you anticipate the possible practical problems. You may appreciate partners' many little tempting blandishments, but don't let them pull you off course.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Matters intimately related to your prestige and status at work are still looking complex. I don't think anyone would blame you if you sat back and let fate take its course. The end result would probably be the same in any case! Your romantic stars are looking up - so that's good news, then!

Ganesha fest at Idgah Maidan: Wakf Board moves apex court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE State Wakf Board has approached the Supreme Court challenging the the Karnataka High Court's interim order favouring the Revenue Department to go ahead with Ganesha festival celebrations at Chamarajapet Idgah maidan.

The board roped in senior advocate Kapil Sibal to represent them in the case. The board will file an application in the Supreme Court in this regard seeking an urgent hearing in the matter.

A board member said there was peace in the society due to the interim order passed by a single-judge bench of the High Court to maintain the status quo in the Idgah Maidean issue. But later, the state government moved the High Court challenging that order, and a two-judge bench passed the interim order allowing Ganesha festival celebrations at he Idgah Maidan in Chamarajpet.

The Chamarajpet Idgah maidan became a bone of contention between the Muslim body, the locals and Hindu groups in the last few months. The locals and Hindu outfits say the land was a Municipality property and sought permission to hold other religious festivals and national and state events. The Board denied saying that it was Wakf property and only Namaz, besides which it could be used only as a playground.

The Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Joint Commissioner (West), SM Srinivasa, after a probe, ruled in the Revenue Department's favour saying the Wakf Board had failed to submit additional documents.

The Board had only the 1965 Gazette Notification favouring the 2.5 acres in its name, but had not applied for Khatha since then. As per rules, within the three years of the notification, the Wakf Board should have filed for Khatha and as it failed, the land was ordered in Revenue Department's favour. However, this decision was challenged by the board in the High Court. Initially, the HC ruled a Status Quo which meant only Namaz during Ramazan and Bakrid and playground status could be maintained, but the next day, the two member bench ordered in the Revenue Department's favour.

Ganesha Chaturthi allowed at Hubballi Idgah Maidan for 3 days

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hubballi

AMID umpteen speculations, the Hubballi-Dharwad Municipal Corporation (HDMC) has given its nod to install Ganesha idol at the communally sensitive Idgah Maidan located near Rani Chennamma Circle. Out of six organisations that have sought permission, one will be permitted to consecrate the idol for three days.

Before the corporation arrived at this decision, a series of meetings were held. The House Committee constituted by the HDMC to decide on this issue was supposed to submit its report by Monday 11 am. But it took more time as the committee allowed more people to give their representations till 3 pm. The committee handed over the report to mayor Iresh Anchatgeri in a closed envelope.

Meanwhile, the BJP and Congress leaders also held meetings separately. While the BJP meeting was held at Union Minister Pralhad Joshi's residence, DCC city unit president Altaf Hallur chaired the Congress meeting. As the Congress members were opposed to giving permission to install Ganesh idol on the ground, the members of the committee did not attend the meetings, except on Monday.

Before the committee submitted its report to the mayor, both the Congress members Imamhusen Eligar and Niranjan Hiremath submitted a letter to Anchatgeri, raising objections over the very constitution of the committee itself. They said they are opposed to the committee and were not party to the decision taken by it.

'ALL BENGALURU GANESHA PANDALS TO HAVE SAVARKAR PHOTO'

BENGALURU: The Bengaluru Mahanagara Ganeshotsav Samiti, a confederation of various Ganesha Chaturthi associations, met BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath on Monday, and requested the Palike to make all required arrangements. Prakash Raju, a member of the Samiti, said processions will be held on September 2, 3, 4 and also on 9, 10 and 11. He also informed that there are plans to place portraits of Vinayak Damodar Savarkar in almost all of the pandals. He added that portraits of other freedom fighters and tableaus, commemorating 75 years of Independence, will also be highlighted. The Samiti submitted a request to the BBMP to make appropriate arrangements, including efficient traffic and street light management during the celebration. It has also sought cranes to be deployed at lakes, including Hebbal, Sankey, Ulsoor and Yediyur, for idol immersion.

HC dismisses former officer's plea on CID charges

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court dismissed the petition filed by Sandeep Dash, former Indian Civil Accounts Service Officer, challenging the criminal proceedings initiated by the CID for allegedly diverting Rs 30 crore illegally, and causing loss of Rs 3.19 crore to the exchequer when he was Executive Director (Finance) of Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) from 2005 to 2007.

"The allegations are intertwined, covering his tenure at both places – Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) and BMRCL. Merely because accused MN Sheshappa and C Vasanth Kumar are dropped from the charges, it cannot be said that the petitioner has also necessarily to be dropped from the charges, notwithstanding the glaring circumstances mentioned in the order. The submission of parity of the senior counsel for the petitioner is unacceptable, so is the petition filed on the sole ground seeking parity in treatment," said Justice M Nagaprasanna, dismissing the petition filed by Sandeep Dash.

Charges against Sheshappa and Vasanth Kumar were dropped in the case of BMRCL, as they were covered in the other crime registered with respect to diversion of surplus funds of Rs 2,138.6 crore by Sandeep Dash when he was Finance Member of BDA from 1997 to 2005 fraudulently, in order to cheat the BDA and state government, and make wrongful gain for his wife.

Taking the dropping of charges against Sheshappa and Vasanth Kumar as a ground, Dash moved the high court to drop his name also from the crime with regard to diversion of BMRCL funds, by extending the same benefit.

Two 'drunk' African women assault cop on Brigade Rd

Bengaluru: Two African women, who were allegedly drunk, argued and pushed the patrol team from the Cubbon Park police station, on Brigade Road late Sunday night. The incident took place when the police asked them to leave the place as it was late. They allegedly started abusing and pushed one of the constables, who started caning the two. He then lost his balance and fell on the patrol vehicle. The police control room was alerted following which the two women were taken to Ashoknagar police station and detained. "They were released on bail. A criminal case has also been filed. Both have been subjected to medical tests. We are also probing whether they are staying illegally," R Srinivas Gowda, DCP (Central) said. The women, however, said they came to have dinner. "We will examine the CCTV footage. Action will be taken against the policeman if found guilty. We have asked him to explain why he caned them," said an officer. The police have registered a case of assault and use of criminal force to obstruct a public servant.

In past week, Ramanagara records 495%, Ch'nagar 378% excess rain

Excess rainwater leading to flooding of downstream in Cauvery basin

Situation grim in Yalandur, Kollegal and Gundlupet taluks as tanks are full

More than 10 two-wheelers were washed away near Kumbalgodu

Copious rain, poor infra work leaves dists flooded

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE severe flooding in Chamarajanagar, Ramanagara and surrounding areas is an unusual phenomenon, and locals and experts say this is the first time they have seen floods in the region in the past two decades.

According to Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre (KSNDMC), till 8.30am, August 29, Ramanagara received 1039 per cent higher rainfall than normal, and Chamarajanagar received 1689 per cent higher rainfall than normal.

Ramanagara recorded 35mm rainfall against the normal of 3mm, and Chamarajanagar received 32mm against the normal of 2mm. In the past seven days (August 23-29), Ramanagara recorded excess rainfall of 495 per cent, and Chamarajanagar 378 per cent excess rain.

Officials and experts point out that the region has not experienced a dry spell or drought in the past three years. Due to increased infrastructure activities, excess rainwater is leading to flooding downstream in the Cauvery basin, leading to water stagnation.

"Unplanned and haphazard infrastructure work is the prime cause of flooding. The fertile cultivation area is flooding, which is a sign of poor planning. The Cauvery basin and downstream are not supposed to flood because of the natural terrain for water flow. As all the water bodies are full due to continuous rainfall since 2020 and 2021, matters have become worse. The areas leading to Tamil Nadu are also flooded."

Officials from the India Meteorological Department (IMD) Bengaluru said Chamarajanagar recorded 7cm rainfall and Kollegal recorded 6cm rainfall on August 29. "The duration was through the day and intensity was not high. But since the regions have been continuously receiving rainfall and all water bodies are full, it would have led to flooding," the official said. Officials from KSNDMC have now decided to undertake a detailed study on the ground water table. "So far, such a study was not undertaken to assess the situation, but now it is necessary to know how much more water the region can hold. This is important to ensure agriculture planning, crop pattern, diversion, usage of land and to plan ahead," said a KSNDMC official.

B'LURU-MYSURU HIGHWAY FLOODED, 249 BUSES DIVERTED

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

SEVERAL buses heading towards Mysuru were diverted by KSRTC on Monday due to heavy flooding on the busy Bengaluru-Mysuru Highway via Kanakapura-Harohalli and Malavalli. Meanwhile, a car belonging to former minister CP Yogeshwar was stranded at a railway underpass near Ramanagara. Local teams rescued the vehicle. Ramanagara Police said that traffic was thrown out of gear and commuters coming to Bengaluru from Mysuru, and heading towards Channapatna, were stuck. More than 10 bikes were washed away near Kumbalgodu. Villagers were seen fishing on the flooded highway. Former Chief Minister HD Kumaraswamy visited the inundated Bengaluru-Mysuru Highway in Ramanagara to review the situation. A senior officer from KSRTC said that 249 buses were diverted from 8am, and around evening, they were allowed to take the Ramanagara route as the water was drained out. "We will monitor the situation for the next two days, and take a decision," the officer said.

Rain plays spoilsport before festival

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

A heavy downpour in Chamarajanagar dampened the festival spirit as villages were flooded, standing crops destroyed and tanks overflowed.

Two PWD engineers and their driver had a miraculous escape after the car they were travelling in was caught in the gushing waters of Suvarnavathi river, which was flowing over the danger mark. The engineers managed to get out of the car and stand on the vehicle's top, when onlookers and villagers managed to rescue them and also pull the car out of the river. The situation is grim in Chamrajanagar, Yalandur, Kollegal and Gundlupet taluks as tanks are brimming and feeder canals overflowing because of heavy rain since Sunday.

The fire department rescued 10 people, whose houses were flooded at Yadiyur, Changadipura, Jothigowdanapura, Ammanapura, Talanur and neighboring villages. Traffic was affected between Demahalli and Kuderu, Santhemarahalli and Chamrajnagar, Kagalawadi and Chamrajanagar, Kollegal and Yalandur. Water was released from Suvaranavathi and Chikkahole reservoirs, flooding areas downstream.

The Haradanahalli tank, which is full after 18 long years, has turned into a picnic spot. An orange alert has been issued.

Heavy downpour is predicted in Chamrajnagar, Yalandur, and Gundlupet. Nearly 35 houses have been damaged.

Floods, landslides in several areas of Madikeri taluk

MADIKERI: Heavy rain and landslides caused panic among residents of Madikeri taluk on Monday morning. Chembu, Koyanadu, Karike and Bhagamandala villages were the most affected. Five bridges that were repaired recently were damaged again. Kodagu Deputy Commissioner Dr BC Sateesha visited Koyanadu and collected details of the damage. Chembu village has been cut off from the rest of the district as Dabadkka bridge, which had been repaired after a heavy rain in July, is damaged. Residents of Koyanadu said that flash floods struck the area between 4 am and 4.30 am on Monday. "We rushed out of our houses as water levels suddenly rose," a villager said. Five houses in Koyanadu were flooded after fallen trees blocked the water flow at the newly constructed check dam. While rain was normal, a landslide would have triggered floods, they said.

CM Bommai flew to Ramanagara by a chopper and visited flood-hit areas. He inspected the damage caused due to breaching of Bakshi lake, in Maruthi Extension. From there, he walked on the railway track and met affected people.

Bommai was informed that two lives were lost, 2,222 houses, including 113 in Ramanagara town, were partially damaged, water gushed into 3,863 homes and over 5,000 livestock lost. Crops on 600 acres plain land and 500 acres of horticulture farms were damaged. "Since there are no guidelines on compensation for losses at the silk cocoon reeling factories and residential houses, it will be taken up as a special case and compensation will be given," he said. He asked officials to relocate 50 SC/ST families whose huts at Gandhi Grama village were damaged and build pucca houses.

Due to heavy rain in Devanahalli on Monday, five flights, including two international ones, which were supposed to land in KIA, were diverted. According to BIAL, the Air India flight from Male was diverted to Chennai while an Emirates flight from Dubai was sent to Rajiv Gandhi International Airport to Hyderabad.

1L housing scheme: Finally, 2K houses ready

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru:

SIX years after the scheme to provide one lakh houses to the urban poor was announced, the Karnataka government is ready to distribute 2,000 houses on September 7 this year.

Housing Minister V Somanna told reporters on Monday that 48,000 houses are being constructed on 493 acres of land, of which 2,000 houses are completed, and the remaining 46,000 are under various stages of construction. Of these, 10,000 houses are at roofing stage, and 4,700 houses at the foundation level.

Somanna said the Union government has approved Rs 1,500 crore, of which it has released Rs 600 crore. The State government, too, released Rs 583 crore. They are also gearing up to construct the remaining 52,000 houses. Under this scheme, they have received 44,500 applications so far.

Slamming Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah, Somanna said he has alleged that he had given a work order for 1 lakh houses, which the BJP government cancelled. "Siddaramaiah made the allegation against me. I am ready for open discussions," he said. He pointed out that in 2016-17, the Centre released Rs 600 crore and in 2018-19, tenders were called. In the tender, the State government said 22,000 houses are to be constructed. But the government did not hand over land to the bidder.

The 'One Lakh housing scheme' was announced by the Siddaramaiah government in 2016. Since then, four CMs, including incumbent Basavaraj Bommai, and four housing ministers have not been able to see the project through so far.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE new Karnataka Aerospace and Defence Policy 2022-27 announced by the State Government aims to attract investments to the tune of ₹45,000 crore (USD 6 bn) in the aerospace and defence sector in five years.

Policy steps identified under new policy include aerospace and defence parks at five hubs, promoting common testing facilities, skill development, strengthening R&D infrastructure for promoting innovative and cutting-edge technologies and promoting development of Karnataka as a destination for manufacturing for space applications and continue thrust on MSMEs.

The police have already recorded the statements of victims under Section 161 of CrPC. Interim Chairperson of KSCPCR Dr Jayashree on Monday met the two victims at the Government Bala Mandir.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Vijayapura/Belagavi

Before inspecting the ongoing irrigation works in Vijayapura district on Monday, he said, "It is the internal differences between Basavarajan, who was once a close associate of the seer, and the mutt. It is an attempt at spoiling image of the seer."

Katti, who is also Vijayapura district in-charge minister, said, "Accusing the seer of sexual harassment is wrong. Dr Shivamurthy and other pontiffs have been striving for social empowerment over the past many decades." Meanwhile, KPCC working president Satish Jarkiholi said the Pocso case looks like a conspiracy against the seer.

Cong campaign to counter 'Janotsava'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

TO counter BJP's 'Janotsava' to showcase its achievements, the Congress has launched the 'nimma hatra idya uttara' campaign to counter it ahead of the 2023 assembly polls.

The Congress strategy is to ostensibly portray the state government as 'vachana brastra' which has failed to fulfil 90 per cent of the promises which was made during the 2018 Assembly polls. Launching a brochure for the campaign on Monday, the Congress national general secretary and Karnataka in-charge Randeep Singh Surjewala launched a scathing attack on the government.

"The government has fixed 30 per cent commission for the mutts, 40 per cent for contractors, and 50 per cent for party workers," he alleged.

On behalf of the youths, SC/STs, women, farmers, the party will question the Basvaraj Bommai-led state government which will include promises of smartphones to women, 70 first-grade colleges, uninterrupted power supply for farmers, allowing writing answers in Kannada in central exams, and Rs 3,000 crore scholarship pending for the SC/ST students.

The Congress alleged that implementation of irrigation projects has taken a back seat due to paucity of funds.

"It is time to question @BJP4Karnataka over their failed promises to the people. They have completed 3 years of governance and yet more than 90% of their promises remain unfulfilled. We, on the behalf of the people, want to ask BJP #NimHatraIdyaUttara," tweeted Siddaramaiah.

SC issues notice to K'taka, pulls up petitioners

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ NewDelhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday sought Karnataka government's response in the petitions against the Karnataka High Court's verdict of refusing to lift the ban on hijab in educational institutions in the state.

Issuing notice in the pleas and the application seeking stay of HC's judgment, the bench of Justices Hemant Gupta and Sudhanshu Dhulia posted the matter for September 5. The bench also pulled up the petitioners for circulating a letter for adjournment and said that it would not permit forum shopping. "This is not acceptable. You ask for early hearing time and again. Now it is listed, you ask for more time. We will not permit forum shopping," Justice Hemant Gupta, the presiding judge of the bench said.

"Though there is a letter circulated but SG for the state of Karnataka accepts notice. It is stated that no counter is required to be filed. Issue notice on stay. List on Monday for argument," the bench added.

Urging the bench to grant time, counsel for one of the petitioner's challenging HC's verdict submitted that the matter had been listed suddenly for hearing on Sunday. It was also submitted that other counsels had to travel to Delhi from places like Karnataka. "Karnataka is only 2.5 hours away," Justice Gupta said. SG Tushar Mehta for the Karnataka Government laid emphasis on the fact that the matter was mentioned at least six times. "Exams were starting at that time," counsel submitted. Mehta at this juncture urged the bench to issue notice so that at least one stage was over.

On March 15, the Karnataka HC had held that wearing of hijab was not a part of essential religious practice which could be protected under Article 25 (Right to freedom of conscience and free profession, practice and propagation of religion) of the Constitution. The bench further held that the prescription of uniform dress code in educational institutions was not violative of the fundamental rights. The HC's verdict came on the petitions filed by section of students from the Government PU Girls College in Udupi.

SPICY EXCHANGES ON EDUCATION QUALITY IN DELHI, ASSAM

Recent loaded exchanges on social media between two chief ministers on the quality of education in their respective states made it quite saucy. AAP founder and Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal and his Assam counterpart Himanta Biswa Sarma made some valid points while parrying punches. Thankfully, their language was sharp but civil, not shrill. Kejriwal landed the first blow by questioning Assam's decision to shut 34 government schools where not even one Class X student passed the Board exam in March last. He said shutting schools was not the solution, adding that improving them and enhancing their teaching quality was the way forward. That was a matter-of-fact observation, but Sarma took offence, perhaps because he was education minister earlier. Since he held the position, Assam added as many as 8,610 schools, he underlined, throwing a counterpunch asking how many new schools Delhi had built since AAP came to power. While Kejriwal weaved away, a recent Delhi education department's response to an RTI query quantified it as 63 till May 2022 against AAP's promise of 500 in its poll manifesto in 2015. As they say, those who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones.

That the quality of education in Delhi's government schools has improved is not disputed. It's a fact that the AAP government in Delhi made bigger allocations for education than its predecessors, improved school infrastructure and sanitation and enhanced teachers' training. Kejriwal's joust came in the wake of a recent US media report that was appreciative of Delhi's public schools at a time when his deputy Manish Sisodia, who also holds the education portfolio, was embroiled in a liquor policy scam. But Assam is a much bigger and complex—though poor—state with over 44,000 government schools and 65 lakh students. In contrast, resource-rich urban Delhi has just 1,000-odd public schools.

That said, such debates on universal education are welcome. Absorbing best practices from across the spectrum ought to be part of our learning curve. There is no harm in arranging mutual exchange programmes. But such matters ought to be taken up with positivity instead of netas scoring brownie points.

LGBTQIA+ GLOSSARY A BIG STEP FORWARD

Words without action mean little, but words can be a starting point. The lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, intersex, and asexual (LGBTQIA+) community knows this better than most. Despite the NALSA verdict that recognised the rights of transgender persons and the decriminalisation of consensual same-sex intercourse, Indian law, lawmakers, and society still have a long way to go until sexual minorities are accorded due dignity, rights and opportunities. An excellent example is the inadequate Transgender Persons (Protection of Rights) Act passed over the protests of trans activists.

One must read the Tamil Nadu government's notification of a Tamil glossary on appropriate language to be used for the community in this context. The glossary is the product of a high court order that has also resulted in guidelines for police. The glossary finally notified was produced in consultation with community members. Although there are some sticking points—description of gender fluid, for instance, uses a word that translates to instability—it is a step in the right direction. Members of the community remain mocked and taunted by the crudest of terms, even in public speech and popular culture. At the same time, those whose identities may fall within that of a sexual minority find themselves without a language to describe who they are. The glossary, with statutory backing, validates their experiences even in the face of any societal or familial pressure they may encounter. With the court ordering media organisations to employ the correct terminology, the most harmful and outdated of language may possibly be replaced in the popular lexicon.

Yet, the glossary must be treated as a living document that evolves progressively along with our understanding and knowledge. Similarly, the document must not be adhered to inflexibly so that members of the community are unable to access entitlements for choosing to describe themselves differently. Words without action mean little. But the words of this glossary could be a beginning, a step at least, in the direction of a society that learns to treat LGBTQIA+ persons with the respect and dignity they are due.

SOURAV ROY

Prime Minister Narendra Modi Ji has set the cat among the pigeons once again. In his typical and very "in-the-eye" manner of raising an issue, he has raised the decibel of debate on the "Revdi culture". This innocuous little sesame-coated Indian sweet seems to have a "culture" of its own today. A culture where giving things away for free by political parties, and subsequently by popularly elected governments seems the norm. It is essentially a pop-culture (if you may call it that) at the center of today's debate.

The basics then. The start point of this exploration is really the question: What's a freebie? The issue is really in the definition. No two parties (political or otherwise) seem to agree. For one, a freebie is really what the poor, hapless and deprived citizen needs. And for the other, it is a bleed on the exchequer without real meaning or sustainable and meaningful contribution.

If I were to really peel the entire debate to its simplest bit, I would say that a freebie is a boon till you are elected, and a bane once you are. Those yet to sit in the ruling benches will therefore depend on doling out the freebie (and more its promise), and when you actually sit on those hot benches as a ruling party, you will want it dispensed with. The debate shall therefore continue endlessly.

The very meaning of the word free is "that which is given or available without a charge". To an extent, the air we breathe, the water we drink and the food we eat to keep our bodies living are items that are free. Or at least meant to be. In a simplistic manner of speaking, all else is possibly meant to be on charge. Clothing and shelter must be bought for sure. And all items of consumptive excess are meant to be bought as per individual means and ability as well. And this "means" is possibly what gives meaning to motivation, the will to work, the will to contribute and the will to participate in economy and society building. All items "on charge" are therefore meant to be items that contribute to bring in animal instinct, power and the will to grow for an economy, a country and its people. All items that are "free" are really meant to be the basics. Basics that sustain life. Items that are free are therefore to an extent meant to be disincentives or politely put, zero-incentives to hard work, effort, personal growth and enrichment as well.

What then of higher-end needs? I am now talking of items that live in the relatively higher-end buckets of health and education, possibly in that order of importance. Must the government of the day offer this for free as well?

What then of items such as jobs? Must governments offer it for free? Must schemes such as the MGNREGA continue endlessly then? Is the right to livelihood not a basic as well? And what about electricity? Is that not a basic right as well? And must it not come free? What about aids that get a whole generation out of its impoverishment and inequality? Bicycles to ride to school? Laptops that can enrich the way you educate yourself? And what about covering expenses for the marriage of a girl who comes from an impoverished family?

Let's keep stretching the freebie elastic more and more then, till it breaks. What about bus rides in a city for women? And for children? For the differently-abled?

If you give a man food, you don't give him motivation to grow that food. If, however, you teach him how to grow his food, that would lead to a constructive economic activity that would be self-sustainable for a long time to come. And yet, this is not as simple as stated. What of an entire generation of people who just don't know how to grow their food? Would you not help them with a freebie or two while they learnt how to grow their food? Would you not be patient?

> For an economy that is all about taking care of its myriad peoples, there are no free lunches to dole out. If you get a free lunch, you are the lunch really. If you don't mind being the lunch, why cry? Subsidy-living is temporary for the receiver, but a perennial outflow for the giving government

The pioneering school midday meal scheme of Tamil Nadu's popular Chief Minister MG Ramachandran, which was then taken to further highs or lows (depending on which side of the debate fence you belong) by Selvi J Jayalalithaa, is a clear case in point. Education was given a miss by a lot of children and their families. The provision of nutritious food in the school at government's cost was an incentive to send children to school.

The key point to remember is that all freebies, whether the basic ones, the middle-end ones such as health and education freebies, or completely high-end ones such as laptops, toilets, houses, loan waivers and marriage allowances all come from money the governments (State or Central) have collected from and for the people and the economy at large. Everything comes from all the direct taxes (which a relatively few pay) and indirect taxes which all of us pay.

And this is where the need for discipline lies. Political personas of every kind need to think as if they are already out there in governance and government. One needs to talk in one tongue. Not two. Not in one tongue before the election and in another quick-replacement substitute tongue thereafter.

For an economy that is all about taking care of its myriad peoples, there are no free lunches to dole out. If you get a free lunch, you are the lunch really. If you don't mind being the lunch, why cry? Subsidy-living is temporary for the receiver, but a perennial outflow for the giving government. And governments cannot give freebies forever.

The Debt to GSDP ratio of as many as five Indian states has crossed the precarious 30% level. And as many as eight others sit on the precipice of debt. And at the level of the Centre, fiscal deficit target discipline has indeed gone haywire, hitting a near double-digit number as opposed to an ideal target of 2% or a more realistic level of 3% as committed in budget after budget.

As State after State falls into the freebie trap due to the compulsions of the electorate and its management strategies as listed by the political party that wants its share of votes, government money leaks and goes more to pay off debts on loans (at times taking a loan to pay off a loan as well), instead of finding its way into more hard investments that are enduring enough to create more value for the nation and its people. I think governments of the day, both at the States and at the Centre, need to have an active and dynamic plan to work towards a freebie-free future. We need a Net Zero Freebie Goal by 2027. If not earlier.

SAVE THE CONSTITUTION, SAVE THE NATION

D RAJA
General Secretary, CPI

When we were fighting for our Independence, throwing away the British yoke and imagining a better future went hand-in-hand with our century-long freedom struggle. Work and ideas of social reformers, political leaders, philosophers, writers and revolutionaries were converging to shape the future republic. When we finally won our Independence from the British 75 years ago, we tried to give a coherent shape to the aspirations of the deprived and impoverished millions reduced to destitution under British misrule. The horrors of partition were fresh in our memory. Leaders and masses agreed about the heinous consequences of religion-based mobilisation, which blinded people to the common good.

Conscious of the need of the hour, our Constituent Assembly, under the leadership of Dr Bhimrao Ambedkar, tried to enshrine the values of our freedom movement and the desires of the masses in our Constitution. After almost three years of hard work, on November 26, 1949, we declared our resolve to "constitute India into the Sovereign Democratic Republic" through the Preamble of our Constitution. The values of our Constitution represent the blood and sweat of millions who fought and perished so that future generations could breathe in a free India.

The last eight years have seen a substantial retreat from the premise envisioned in our Constitution. Our Constitution drew the framework for a secular polity, with the State maintaining equidistance from all religious denominations. This was done to ensure fair treatment to all and protect minorities. The secular setup is being systematically dismantled today, with all-pervasive attempts being made to elevate one particular religion to the status of de facto religion of the State.

Senior members of the government holding constitutional offices, including the Prime Minister, are participating in religious ceremonies—for example, the inauguration of the Kashi Vishwanath corridor or the foundation stone-laying ceremony for the Shri Ram Temple in Ayodhya.

Worse, even state functions are being reoriented to give the semblance of religious ceremonies of the majority religion, as was seen recently when the PM unveiled the state emblem atop the new Parliament building or the foundation stone that was laid for the Central Vista. A section of the population is also celebrating these unconstitutional acts. However, they are sure to be outraged if the ceremony is to resemble the practices of the minority.

It should be understood that these attempts are not isolated. They are part of a well-thought design to establish a hierarchical Hindu Rashtra regime of the RSS subverting our secular democratic Constitution. These attempts are not new, but the vigour these are being pursued with now clearly indicates state patronage. The RSS never accepted our Constitution, the principle of equality, secularism or safeguards for minorities and deprived sections. They opposed the democratic framework and stood solidly with the British. There is nothing new in their contempt for the Constitution.

When the BJP first came to power under Atal Bihari Vajpayee, it wanted to constitute a commission to review the Constitution. Still, it had to take two steps back because of President K R Narayanan's sharp reaction. Under a former RSS Pracharak Narendra Modi, they are pursuing the aim of Hindu Rashtra with greater zeal in an all-pervasive manner.

Very recently, a Dharma Sansad or Religious Parliament, took place in Varanasi. This Dharma Sansad has come up with a draft by the 'Hindu Rashtra Constitution Nirman Samiti', openly advocating for a Hindu Rashtra. The Samiti has prescribed snatching away voting rights from Muslims and Christians.

Along with the proposal to make Varanasi the capital instead of New Delhi, the Varna system legitimising caste, segregation, and hierarchy is part of the draft.

What is astonishing is the silence of the government on these brazenly unconstitutional proposals, including that of the Prime Minister, who is the Member of Parliament from Varanasi and under-oath to "do right to all manner of people in accordance with the Constitution and the law, without fear or favour, affection or ill-will".

The negligence, contrary to the oath of the high office, indicates the complicity of the ruling regime with Hindutva forces intending to take the country hundreds of years back into the shackles of caste and gender discrimination. This studied silence on the part of the government and the BJP shows that the government will likely call such things "fringe". But citizens should question this in every instance.

Concurrent with the secular-democratic framework, the Constitution also had a substantial welfarist orientation. It was considered necessary for the state to intervene to provide essential amenities to citizens for their upliftment from poverty and disease. Only then the equality of opportunity and right to life with dignity can be realised.

Thus, the Constitution that came into force guaranteed fundamental rights and liberties and provided for Directive Principles of State Policy, which provided a roadmap for future governments. These principles were meant to ensure the overall well-being of the country and its people. The Constitution makers intended them to be "fundamental in the governance of the country" as the Constitution declares in Article 37 of Part IV that "it shall be the duty of the State to apply these principles in making laws." It is evident that retreating from these principles has been quite substantive. Rampant privatisation, inequalities, unemployment, lack of social security and inclusion and increase in hunger have all been hallmarks of the Modi years. Right-wing forces are hounding the spirit of scientific temper, critical inquiry and debate, and Parliament itself is being made redundant.

In the face of these assaults, our twin objectives are to protect the secular-democratic and egalitarian framework of the Constitution while fighting for the overall material upliftment of the people. As we see, the attempts to subvert our Constitution and redefine the legacy of our freedom movement is all-pervasive. Our counter to them should also be all-encompassing, ideologically raising the issues of the masses.

The Left has the historical responsibility to frustrate the forces of the Right through an ideological struggle. This ideological struggle should underpin our proud inheritance of sacrifice for our country's freedom, our consistent commitment to secularism and the upliftment of all sections of the working class. We should raise our banner of equality against this frontal assault on our Constitution. As the most committed and concerned workers to the people and the nation, we must save the Constitution, we must save the nation.

Shakespearean tragedy

Apropos of the column by Editor Santwana Bhattacharya, The inside man and the exit door (August 28). The in-depth and incisive analysis of Azad's exit and his political persona has cleared many doubts that have been lingering in people's minds. After being wedded to Congress for 50 long years, it is apparent that Azad has not taken a sudden decision. He might have been sidelined, but one cannot deny that he has been enjoying plum positions. In recent times, his proximity with the BJP and Modi make it quite easy to connect the dots. But if he is trying to do this to help the BJP divide the votes in Jammu and Kashmir in their favour, it would truly be an 'Et tu, Brutus?' moment.

Twin towers crumble

The successful demolition of the twin towers in Noida showcases the advancement of technology and it deserves appreciation. Above all, the Supreme Court stood firm in its decision that unauthorised buildings should be demolished. There are plenty of buildings like this in the country that are built ignoring the rules. This would serve as a warning to future builders who disobey the rules and regulations of construction.
Rajakumar Arulanandham, Tirunelveli

Corruption towers fall

The SC's observation that the builder violated building norms by colluding with authorities, hits the nail on the head. The demolition should send strong signals to all the corrupt people who indulge in all kinds of nefarious activities. The question that crops up now is—will the court punish all those officials and political leaders involved?
Govardhana Myneedu, Vijayawada

Crushed dreams in rubble

A series of controlled explosions reduced to rubble the 'illegally built' twin residential towers in Noida in just 12 seconds. One fails to understand why authorities turn a blind eye when these structures are being built. It is only when people start living in them that they are demolished, taking down with them the dreams and a lifetime of the owners' savings.
Dr George Jacob, Kochi

Old-age pension in TN

Apropos of Old-age pension: TN to introduce varied scheme (August 29). It is a good step by the TN government for putting into effect a varied scheme for those from 60–70, 70–80 and 80 and above. But the government must ensure that the money is distributed evenly.

SUPERTECH TWIN TOWERS: HOWS & WHYS OF THE DEMOLITION

Till recently Emerald Court at Noida's Sector 93A was testimony to corruption in the state's building sector. Today, a mountain of rubble and dust stand at the site. And buried under this huge pile is a story surrounding the controversy, the residents' legal battle and how the authorities brought the Supertech twin towers down.

PARVEEN NEGI

DEMOLITION COST

₹20 crore or ₹267 per sq ft

Edifice Engineering obtained a ₹100-crore insurance policy to cover potential losses

Supertech paid about ₹5 crore as demolition costs

The rest (₹15 crore) would be covered by selling the 80,000 tonnes of debris

WHY WERE THE SUPERTECH TWIN TOWERS DEMOLISHED?

- New Okhla Industrial Development Authority (NOIDA) gave Supertech permission in 2005 to construct 14 towers with nine stories each, a shopping centre and a garden area. However, Supertech surreptitiously added 2 extra floors to the structure.
- In 2009, changes were made to the proposal by including the Apex & Ceyane twin structures. A case filed by the Emerald Court Owners Residents Welfare Association in the Allahabad HC in 2012 claimed NOIDA officials approved a new plan to illegally construct the twin towers
- Four residents first raised the alarm on violation of building laws by Supertech. They raised donations to fund their legal battle
- In 2014, HC ordered razing the towers. HC castigated NOIDA for collaborating with the builder which was directed to reimburse flat buyers. The same year, Supertech moved SC

WHAT DID SUPREME COURT SAY ON THE MATTER?

AUGUST 31, 2021

Two-judge bench of Justices D Y Chandrachud and M R Shah pointed to "cooperation" between NOIDA officials and Supertech management. It also said that the approval plan for the twin towers violated the UP Apartments Act, 2010, and the NBRs of 2006, 2010, 2005 and 1975.

- It held that Supertech had made misleading arguments and attempted to deceive bench, while NOIDA officials had not carried out their responsibilities honourably.
- NOIDA officials informed SC in February 2022 that demolition work had started and will probably be finished by May 2022. The SC later extended this to August 28, 2022.

TECHNOLOGY USED

- 'Waterfall implosion' approach adopted for precise destruction
- This ensured debris to fall like water. Implosion technique through controlled detonation used. Demolition done by Mumbai-based Edifice Engineering along with South African experts Jet Demolitions
- 3,700 kg of explosives placed inside the twin towers. While Apex had 11 primary blast floors, Ceyane had 10
- It took about seven months to prepare this demolition
- Preparations began in February. A trial was done in April.
- Impact cushions reduced vibration from falling debris

WHAT AFTER THE DEMOLITION?

- Ramky Group has been tasked to remove the debris. About 21,000 cubic mt of debris will be transported and dumped within Noida's Work Circle 7 boundaries. The area identified is 6 hectare.
- Edifice Engineering will try to recover whatever it can from the collapsed structure. The debris might yield at least 4,000 tonnes of iron and steel, which Edifice will use to partially recoup the demolition costs.
- Some of the debris likely be taken to Sector 80's waste management facility run by Noida Authority.

'CORRUPTION' ANGLE

WHO SANCTIONED THE TWIN TOWERS?

The Emerald Court society received construction sanction in 2005. Later, changes were made and new sanctions granted

WHO ARGUED FOR DEMOLITION?

The demolition order was passed by Allahabad HC in 2014 when Akhilesh Yadav was CM. Then a prosecutor argued that the twin towers should be razed. The case moved to the Supreme Court the same year but the order, which took into account building norm violation, was passed in 2021.

HOW MANY APARTMENTS WERE BUILT AND SOLD?

Of the 850 apartments built, 300 were sold to the buyers who were to be paid back

PRE-BLAST PREPARATION

For NOIDA officials, the towers' location in a residential area and its proximity to the highway, locals' safety, environmental concerns and disruption to traffic posed a big challenge

So the authorities declared a 500mt radius area around towers as an exclusion zone

Emerald Court and ATS Village security staff were allowed to be on the premises till 12 noon of August 28

Residents told to vacate premises by 7pm on August 28 and also remove their vehicles in the exclusion zone.

Drones were barred from flying in the exclusion zone which also included a portion of the Noida-Greater Noida Expressway where vehicular traffic was stopped between 2:15 pm and 2:45 pm on August 28

Water tankers were kept in readiness so that water could be sprinkled to suppress the flying dust. Hundreds of water sprinklers were deployed

Instruments to check air quality were installed at six places near the site. Air quality data was obtained from them from time to time

'NEW BJP BOARD REFLECTS PM'S VISION FOR ALL'

For a better part of two hours of interview, Dr Sudha Yadav, newly-inducted to the BJP's Parliamentary Board, waxed eloquent on "India is under the world's best leadership and will become a global superpower without fail". From Prime Minister Narendra Modi's "true concern for women's empowerment" to how the BJP will perform in the 2024 parliamentary elections, Yadav spoke to TNIE's Rajesh Kumar Thakur on a host of issues. Excerpts:

What message did Prime Minister Modi deliver by inducting you in the BJP's apex decision-making body?
The PM has been working for women's empowerment and for their equal participation in all decision-making processes. This is exemplified by his commitment to 'sub ka saath, sub ka vikas' and 'development without discrimination'. This has found reflection in the restructuring of the board of which I am but a small part. While I had never imagined to be a part of the board, what is clear is that it now has representation from all parts of the country — east, west, north and south.

Do you think the caste factor played a role in your induction?
This may have been a consideration but my work, dedication and two-decade-long association with the party were strong factors for my induction. Above all, the PM's trust in me certainly played a role.

You are member of the National Commission for Backward Classes. You were also national in-charge of the party's OBC Morcha. What is your take on the Opposition's demand for a caste-based census?
The caste census will lead to further splintering, if it is conducted across India. And it is bound to create more confusion if there is lack of wider deliberations and clarifications. On what ground is the opposition demanding a caste census? The country is not prepared for it. In fact, the demand for this move has come from only UP, Bihar and a few other states based entirely on political factors.

Those demanding such a census have done nothing for the OBCs and other marginalised communities. This is only for vote bank and part of the Opposition's politics of appeasement.

Will the BJP's refusal to conduct a caste census have electoral implications in 2024 parliamentary polls?
The voting public is aware of everything. The caste census issue will not have any impact on the BJP especially when the demand for it has been exposed. While the BJP's sub ka saath, sub ka vikas call is self-explanatory, much work has been done by the PM for OBCs than those who only look for political interests.

OBCs need development, education and proper opportunities to grow. But parties such as the JDU and RJD have lost the OBCs' trust because of the appeasement politics.

Verbatim

The Opposition is predicting PM's Modi's ouster in the 2024 Lok Sabha elections. What are your views?
The Opposition appears to be protesting only for the sake of protesting. They want to divide society on the lines of caste and creed. But times have changed and a vibrant India must rise above caste and creed barriers. Prime Minister Modi is the only leader who is acclaimed, accepted and acknowledged by people of all castes and creeds for his performance.

It is said that you may be the BJP's CM face in Haryana
I have never thought about this. I work for the party, for the people and for the country. Our party knows who can do what. I am a simple party worker. I never sought a ticket. In 2014, I was the first runner for the Lok Sabha but I was not fielded. I don't nurture such ambitions.

Appointment of priests: SC seeks TN govt reply over Swamy's plea

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday issued notice to Tamil Nadu government in former Rajya Sabha MP Subramanian Swamy's plea challenging the legality of provisions of Hindu Religious and Charitable Endowments Act, 1959 and appointment of archakas (priests) for temples and Hindu religious institutions in the state.

The bench of Justices Hemant Gupta and Sudhanshu Dhulia also refused to grant Swamy interim relief of temporarily restraining the government from appointing or dismissing archakas. Plea had challenged the legality of the provisions of Hindu Religious and Charitable Endowments Act, 1959 on the ground that it granted the State absolute control over appointments and dismissal of archakas (priest) in Hindu temples of the State.

Former MP Subramanian Swamy urged the bench to pass an order temporarily restraining the government from appointing or dismissing archakas. "This is getting to be an epidemic," Swamy said.

However, turning down Swamy's plea related to temporarily restraining the state, the bench said, "We'll issue notice in the plea and application regarding interim relief as well."

Swamy's petition in which Advocate Satya Sabharwal had assisted stated that the Government had taken over nearly 40,000 Hindu temples in the state.

"This was in utter disregard of the rights of the Hindus in the state to profess, practice and propagate their religion," plea had stated. Swamy had also contended that archakas in the temple did not fall within the definition of a "secular activity."

"It could not be taken over or carried out by the Government and could only be performed by independent trustees of Hindu temples and religious institutions," plea also stated.

SC TO RIZVI: SURRENDER BY SEPTEMBER 2

The Supreme Court on Monday asked Jitendra Tyagi alias Wasim Rizvi, an accused in Haridwar Dharam sansad case for allegedly making anti Muslim speeches to surrender till September 2. A bench of Justices Ajay Rastogi and B V Nagarathna deferred the matter for September 9, 2022. "Go back and surrender. You can't continue to be on bail on medical grounds," Justice Rastogi said.

SC REFUSES TO STALL NEET-PG COUNSELLING

The Supreme Court on Monday refused to stall NEET-PG 2022 counselling which is set to commence from September 1, 2022. "We'll not interfere. Let the NEET PG Counselling go through. Don't stall it anymore. We cannot put students in jeopardy," bench of Justices DY Chandrachud and Hima Kohli remarked.

NAVLAKHA CASE: JUSTICE BHAT RECUSES

Supreme Court judge Justice S R Bhat on Monday recused from hearing Gautam Navalkha's plea seeking to be placed in house arrest instead of Taloja jail. Navalkha is an accused in Bhima Koregaon case. Navalkha had assailed Bombay HC's order that had refused to grant him the relief of being placed in house arrest instead of Taloja jail.

KAPPAN BAIL: SC ASKS UP TO FILE RESPONSE

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Monday issued notice in plea by Kerala journalist Siddique Kappan seeking bail in the "Hathras Conspiracy case". The bench of CJI UU Lalit and S R Bhat while seeking Uttar Pradesh government's response deferred the matter for September 9. Kappan had challenged Allahabad HC's August 2 order where he was denied bail. Assailing the HC's order, Kappan in the plea argued that the HC had mechanically dismissed his bail without affording any cogent reasons.

With SAARC in limbo, SAU faces uncertain future

CHANDAN NANDY @ New Delhi

ONCE billed as a prime example of what "international cooperation" can achieve, the South Asian University (SAU), founded in 2010 as part of the Manmohan Singh government's effort to energise the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC), is today beset by difficult-to-resolve problems created by all the member states.

While the Indian establishment is quick to blame Pakistan for not contributing its financial share of ₹30 crore, the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) on its part has lost interest in the educational institution since SAARC itself is in the backburner. Almost all other member states owe large amounts of money to the university. "Every SAARC country is in default. SAU's governing body takes up the issue of financial default regularly and letters are sent out to the different capitals routinely. But these have not had any salutary effect," well-placed government sources said. The sources revealed that SAU, which operates out of two floors of the Chanakyapuri-located Akbar Hotel, is expected to move to a new campus at Maidangarhi in October but with the Municipal Corporation of Delhi (MCD) yet to issue "occupation certificates" to the university authorities, the new building is likely to become operational not before early next year.

The total expenditure on the new campus, which is built over 100 acre, 20% of which is under litigation, has been about ₹7,000 core, the sources said.

Since its inception 12 years ago, SAU now has only about 500 students, including those from the SAARC member countries — Afghanistan, Nepal, Bangladesh, Bhutan, Sri Lanka, Pakistan, Maldives and India — who had the very limited option of choosing academic programmes from only seven disciplines such as International Relations, Sociology, Development Economics, Legal Studies, Biotechnology and Mathematics and Computer Science. Even as SAU offers only Masters and Doctoral courses, sources said that it is "making do" with about 60 teachers and 30 non-teaching staff.

KCR to discuss natl politics with Nitish

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

TELANGANA CM K Chandrashekar Rao will extend financial assistance to the family of five Galwan Valley Martyrs in Patna on August 31. He will leave for Bihar on Wednesday. The Telangana government announced financial assistance to the Galwan martyrs in the past. Besides this, Rao will also extend financial assistance to the kin of 12 Bihar workers, who died in a fire accident at a timber depot on March 23, 2002 in Secunderabad. Rao will distribute cheques to all of them along with Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar. The family members of Galwan martyrs will get Rs 10 lakh each, while the families of the Bihar workers, who died in the fire accident, will get Rs 5 lakh each. Rao will have a luncheon meeting with Nitish Kumar on Wednesday and discuss national politics, according to an official release from CMO.

Chandrasekhar Rao's tour assumed significance as he is trying to unite the farmers against the Narendra Modi government. It may be mentioned here that Nitish Kumar's JD(U) parted ways with BJP a few weeks ago. Nitish Kumar joined hands with the Opposition RJD. In this backdrop, Chandrasekhar Rao may discuss uniting the anti-BJP parties in the country with Nitish.

Hilsa diplomacy back as Hasina set to visit India

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

HILSA diplomacy will preceed Bangladesh Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina's upcoming visit to Delhi, which is likely to begin on September 5. Fish traders in Bangladesh are hoping to get a clearance to export Hilsa to India during the upcoming Durga Puja celebrations and Hasina's visit may help them.

"Durga Puja begins in October this year and more than two dozen exporters have submitted applications to the Ministry of Commerce in Dhaka to permit them to export Hilsa to India well before the festival begins," say sources, adding that Bangladeshi traders have been selling Hilsa in India for the past three years.

Bangladesh is the largest producer of Hilsa and makes good profit through exports to India. Earlier this year, chief minister of West Bengal Mamta Banerjee had asked visiting Bangladesh's Minister of Commerce, Tipu Munshi, to request Sheikh Hasina to send Hilsa to India during the festival season.

PM Hasina has used Hilsa diplomacy to bridge ties between the two nations. Her first gift of Hilsa was to Chief Minister Jyoti Basu in 1996 - before the signing of the Ganga water sharing treaty between India and Bangladesh.

Later in 2010, PM Hasina got Hilsa for Mamta Banerjee when she was the Railways Minister.

In 2016, when Mamta Banerjee took oath as Chief Minister, PM Hasina sent her 20 kg of Hilsa. In 2017, PM Hasina took 20kg Hilsa and other gifts for President Pranab Mukherjee, who was expected to break the stalemate over Teesta water issue.

Meanwhile, Bangladesh which had kept a ban on Hilsa (their national fish) since August 2012, lifted the ban in 2019 for exports to India for Durga puja as a goodwill gesture.

Punjab BJP may change leadership in September

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE Bhartiya Janta Party (BJP), which is trying to expand its base in Punjab, in all likelihood might change its state leadership by mid-Septemberwith an eye on the 2024 Lok Sabha elections and due to the dismal performancein the recent assembly poll.

It will also try to accommodate Congress leaders who had some timeback joined the BJP and mightoffer important positions to these leaders who had recently met the Prime Minister Narendra Modi also during his visit to Punjab.

Sources said that the aim of this change in the organisational structure andto expand the party is to accommodate leaders who have some time back joinedthe BJP from the Congress. Thus the party might offer important positions to these leaders which include formerPunjab Congress president Sunil Jakhar, five former cabinet ministers Rana Gurmit Singh Sodhi, Balbir Singh Sidhu, Raj Kumar Verka, Gurpreet Kangar and Sundar Sham Arora and former MLA Fateh Singh Bajwa. Both Sodhi and Bajwa arealready active in the organisational structure of the party. Thus several leaders from the state core committee, district committees and morchas of the party are likely to be changed. Keeping in view the 2024 lok sabha elections as for the first time after their three decade old alliance with Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) broke the partywill be fighting on all the 13 Lok sabha seats in the state as earlier it use to contest on only three seats thusthe party needs established leaders, said sources.

Since the BJP was disseminated in the assembly elections in March, there was talk of a change in leadership as it contested 73 assembly seats out of 117 total seats but could muster only two seats: state president Ashwani Sharma won from Pathankotand Jangi Lal Mahajan from Mukerian.

PM's 'unscheduled' stop at Gujarat BJP HQ

He expresses strong displeasure at party leaders for not disseminating welfare plans of Central and state govts

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi stepped out to take charge of poll-bound Gujarat, his home state, on Sunday and held a closed-door meeting with state BJP's core committee members.

However, two members of the party's 18-member core committee were absent. Former Deputy CM Nitin Patel could not attend due to a fractured leg while former minister Shankar Chaudhary was in Brazil. Party sources said Modi expressed strong displeasure at party leaders not disseminating welfare plans of the Central and state governments in the face of a growing AAP influence. He reportedly told everyone in the meeting in "strict words" that good results must be brought within three months.

The Prime Minister's meeting at the state party headquarters 'Shree Kamalam' in Gandhinagar was unscheduled.

The PM's meeting at the state party headquarters in Gandhinagar on Sunday

A party member, who declined to be named, said: "The meeting was not planned. We got information about the PM's visit around 5.30 pm on Sunday."

He said the meeting lasted about two hours, during which the Prime Minister discussed Gujarat BJP's counter-strategy against the opposition.

"The Prime Minister has told party members not to take any political party lightly. All office-bearers, ministers and MLAs have been instructed to be more visible in one's constituency. It appears the Prime Minister has taken command of the Gujarat election," he said.

Sources said that during the two-day visit to his home state, Modi asked the state ministers to counter the slew of promises made by Arvind Kejriwal by aggressively publicizing the welfare schemes. Modi is learned to have been less than appreciative of election efforts of his party members.

Officially, the BJP still maintains that Congress is the real opposition in the state and refuses to cede any space to AAP. Several BJP members at various levels of the organization admit that AAP is fast gaining traction in the state.

It is learned that BJP in its internal surveys has asked its workers to prepare reports on the possible impact of AAP announcements. The party also wants the voters' opinion about the party and booth-wise polling data.

Another senior party leader said on condition of anonymity that the PM received "complaints" about some senior Gujarat leaders, who have been dropped from ministerial posts, were inactive.

Modi also met BJP state general secretary (organization) Ratnakar for about 15 minutes. Ratnakar plays the role of a coordinator between the party organization and the RSS. Sources said Modi discussed with him the ongoing party campaign and the process of selection of candidates.

Gujarat government spokesperson Jitu Vaghani sought to clear the air about the PM's meetings, saying he had accepted the state leadership request to attend the core committee meeting.

Bihar: Shah, Nadda to visit Muslim-dominated region

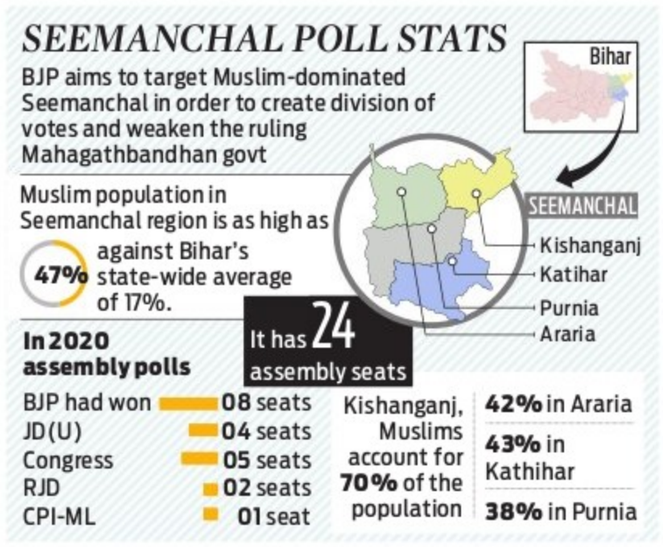
RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

RAMPING up its campaign against its divorced ally, Janata Dal (United), and its new partner Rashtriya Janata Dal, the Bhartiya Janata Party (BJP) has decided that Union Home Minister Amit Shah and party president J P Nadda will tour Muslim-dominated Seemanchal region of Bihar next month.

Union Minister of State for Home Nityanand Rai told the media in Kishanganj on Monday that Shah will be on a two-day visit to Seemanchal region from September 23.

On the first day, he will hold a public meeting in Purnea district followed by a meeting with officials and workers of the Bhartiya Janata Party in Kishanganj on September 24.

The BJP's selection of Seemanchal region as the starting point for its all-out attack on the formidable RJD-JD (U)-Congress-Left combination only shows that the party's intention to play its nationalist card to the hilt during the 2024 Lok Sabha election. In 2019 Lok Sabha polls, the Congress had won its lone seat from Kishanganj.



SEEMANCHAL POLL STATS
BJP aims to target Muslim-dominated Seemanchal in order to create division of votes and weaken the ruling Mahagathbandhan govt
Muslim population in Seemanchal region is as high as 47% against Bihar's state-wide average of 17%.
It has 24 assembly seats
In 2020 assembly polls
BJP had won 08 seats
JD(U) 04 seats
Congress 05 seats
RJD 02 seats
CPI-ML 01 seat

It is expected that Nadda-Shah duo will attack Nitish and his government by creating hype on the suspected terror module operating in the Muslim-dominated region.

In the 2020 assembly election, Hyderabad MP Asduddin Owaisi's All India Majlis-E-Ittehadul Muslimeen had won five seats in Seemanchal. However, four of them later joined RJD.

Currently, out of 24 assembly seats in the region, the Congress holds eight, the Rashtriya Janata Dal three and the CPI (ML) one, totalling 12.

The region comprises seven districts, including Araria, Madhepura, Saharsa, Supaul, Purnea, Kishanganj and Katihar. There is 47% Muslim population in the region.

Gehlot's sports outreach reaches 40k Raj villages

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

IN a move that seems like preparations for elections next year, Ashok Gehlot government is holding 'Rural Olympics' in Rajasthan. The games, which CM Ashok Gehlot flagged off in Jodhpur on Monday, will take place in more than 40,000 villages throughout the state.

While some say that this is an attempt to use sports for political gains, CM Gehlot says this mega event should not be seen through political lens.

On Monday, on the occasion of the birth anniversary of hockey champion Major Dhyan Chand, Gehlot inaugurated the Rajiv Gandhi Rural Olympics 2022 by hoisting the flag in Pal village of Luni constituency of Jodhpur. Interestingly, Gehlot also played Kabaddi in opening the event. Significantly, more than 30 lakh people have registered to participate in the rural Olympics. More than 2.25 lakh teams have been formed and around 10 lakh girls and women will take part in this. Also, 20 lakh men will play in these games which will include players from over 44 thousand villages, over 11 thousand gram panchayats and 352 blocks. These games will be held till October 5.

CM Gehlot said that "Major Dhyan Chand was a magician of sports. Today history is being made in the sports world as such an event has never happened in the whole country and in the world. Over 2 lakh 21 thousand teams have been formed in the villages and 10 lakh women players are also included. We can imagine what kind of atmosphere this will create in the villages." He added that "on the lines of Rural Olympics, now similar Olympics will be organized in cities. Rural Olympics will be held every year so that all the youth come forward and prepare for the whole year."

The elections are due in Rajasthan next year and political observers believe that through sports, the intention of the government is to connect the people with people's representatives.

Mamata slams BJP, flags campaign against TMC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

REFERRING to Central agency's action against TMC heavyweights in alleged corruption cases, West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee on Monday said that had she not joined politics, she would have asked women in Bengal to tear-out the tongue of oppositions who are trying to malign her party.

While addressing a gathering on the occasion of the foundation day of TMC's students wing, Mamata said, ''The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) is branding everybody as thieves. They are campaigning in a way as if all of us in the TMC are thieves and only the BJP and its leaders are clean. Had I not been in politics and on this chair, I would have told my sisters in the state to tear-off the tongue of those who are falsely blaming and maligning the TMC."

> Had I not been in politics and on this chair, I would have told my sisters in the state to tear-off the tongue of those who are falsely blaming and maligning the TMC
> Mamata Banerjee

Mamata also alleged that a malicious campaign has been unleashed against senior TMC leaders, including her, Firhad Hakim and her nephew Abhishek Banerjee. ''They have arrested Partha Chatterjee and Keshto (Anubrata Mondal) and branded them as thieves. They may arrest Hakim in the coming days. One day, they will also label me as a thief. If you have guts, throw me behind the bars and watch what will happen then,'' she said.

Following the arrests of Chatterjee by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) in an alleged recruitment case in schools and Mondal by the CBI in a cattle smuggling case, all opposition parties, the CPI(M), Congress and BJP, sharpened their attack branding the ruling TMC as a party full of corrupt functionaries. All opposition parties alleged the root of corruption is much deeper and more heavyweights are involved in it.

Abhishek was summoned and interrogated by the ED twice in Delhi in connection with a money laundering case. Referring to alleged scam in recruitment in schools, Mamata said, "A malicious campaign targeting the education department is going on. During the 11-year tenure of the TMC as Bengal's ruling party, we recruited 1,63,970 teachers in institutions. How many complaints of irregularities have so far been lodged? The figure is only 200 to 250. We have been told that if there were any irregularities, that will be rectified. But we were not given any chance to rectify.''

KARTARPUR

Govt to install telescope at Pak border

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE Indian authorities will install a high-power telescope at the Pakistan border for devotees to view the Darbar Sahib Gurdwara located at Kartarpur in Pakistan's Punjab. This will benefit thousands of devotees who cannot go to the neighbouring country through the Kartarpur corridor.

Sources in the Land Port Authority of India (LPAI) say the Central government has sanctioned the construction of a tower at Dera Baba Nanak to view the revered gurdwara.

"It was supposed to come up when the corridor was being built," said an LPAI officer. "The tower will now come up in the second phase. It will be a two-story building on top of which a telescope will be placed to enable the devotees to watch the historical gurdwara," said the officer.

"Seating facilities and other amenities will be available in the tower. The project is likely to cost around at least Rs 90 lakh and will be completed in about six months," said the officer.

He said the BSF would handle the access control to the tower.

Sunil Mahto who filed RTI against CM Soren in office-of-profit case

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

WHO has caused troubles for Jharkhand CM Hemant Soren in the disqualification row? Is it former BJP CM Raghubar Das who in February this year accused Soren of violating The Representation of the People Act,1951? No.

It was Ranchi-based RTI activist Sunil Mahto. He had written to the Governor, Prime Minister and the President on Jan 20 this year, asking them to take action against Soren.

Mahto says nothing happened to his complaint. However, Governor Ramesh Bais acted after Raghunbar Das visited him and took up the alleged 'office of profit case' against him (granting a mining lease to himself).

The RTI activist says Soren was trying to get the mining lease from 2018 in violation of laws on tribal land ownership rights. "The process gained speed last year after the Covid pandemic," he says.

Mahto says he had to work hard to collect "evidence" against Soren as none of the documents related to the lease granted to Soren was available on the state government's portal. "All such information was deleted," he said.

"Soren had a crusher business beginning 2007. They started acquiring land on lease by violating Chotanagpur Tenancy Act, giving wrong address and a shorter name of his father," says Mahto.

> Hemant Soren was trying to get the mining lease from 2018 in violation of laws on tribal land ownership rights
> Sunil Mahto, Activist

"I filed a complaint in 2018 with the local administration, but nothing happened," recalls Mahto.

After becoming Chief Minister in 2019, Soren's team again started the process in 2021. They purchased stamp paper on March 3, and the agreement concluded the following day, says Mahto.

"In June last year, they submitted their documents and on July 10, they were granted the lease by the Mining Officer following which they applied for environmental clearance on Sept 9," says the rights activist.

Mahto came to know about it in December 2021. He made a formal complaint to the President of India, Prime Minister and Governor Ramesh Bais.

"All these documents are generally available on the portal of Jharkhand government, but no paper related to him was available on any portal. I got all these documents from the Central government portal," says Mahto.

He waited for a month for some action to follow. Then he filed an RTI and prepared his case for the Jharkhand High Court. "By that time the Governor had acted on the complaints of former CM Raghunbar Das," he said.

When asked about credit being hogged by Ragbhubar Das and Babulala Marandi, he refused to say anything, but vowed that all documents related to the matter are the result of his effort.

"They read out the same document that I had submitted to the Governor," said Mahto. "But, it hardly matters as the objective has already been achieved," he says.

Mahto has been acting against the mighty with the help of the Right to Information Act since it came into being in 2005. He has received a few awards for his fight for the rights of the people.

High on cough syrup: UP mulls cap on sales

Cough syrups are a simple way for drug addicts to consume drugs. Long an open secret, some disturbing new information has emerged as a result of a recent research by the state's Food Safety and Drug Administration (FSDA). The agency launched its investigation after discovering that despite being consumed more frequently in the winter, cough syrup sales did not decrease in the summer. The probe revealed that groups from Nepal were involved in their supply. The FSDA has now suggested a limit on the selling of certain medications. Retailers are forbidden from selling it without a prescription, while wholesalers are asked not to sell over 100 bottles.

Comedy of errors in UP minister's theatrics

In a viral video, UP transport minister is seen cracking down on irregularities and the way he does it has amused viewers. While checking an overloaded vehicle, he asks the official accompanying him, "How do you people allow this to happen in front of your eyes?" He turns to a senior official standing next to him and says, "You, suspended." After a while, he turns around and asks, "Are you in-charge of enforcement?" The officer gives a negative response. "So, who is in-charge of enforcement?" asks the minister. The officer takes the names of somebody. "Then not you, he is suspended," the minister orders.

Poor performance by state's power discoms

The performance of four government-run power distribution companies (discoms) of UP has left much to be desired. In the 10th annual rating of the Union power ministry, none of the government discoms have achieved A or B rating. The best performing firm is Noida Power Company Ltd, a privately operated company, with an A+ rating. Among the four government discoms, Paschimanchal (covering west UP) is the best with C grade rating while the other three and the private discom Kesco have been given C minus. This is worse than last year. Paschimanchal discoms have slipped to 29th position from the 18th in the ranking.

China charges 28 over attacks on women that sparked uproar

BEIJING

CHINESE authorities said on Monday that 28 people have been charged and 15 officials including police are being investigated for corruption two months after a brutal attack on several women in the northern city of Tangshan that sparked outrage and safety concerns.

The investigation has gone beyond the actual attack to encompass broader allegations of criminal activity and police corruption in the area.

In June, a group of men attacked four women in a barbecue restaurant, after one of the men had his advances rebuffed. In graphic video footage circulated online, the men threw a chair at the women, and later dragged one of them out before hitting and kicking her and the others who tried to help her, authorities said. The assault and the public outcry renewed a conversation about misogyny and mistreatment of women in China. The attackers were suspected to be part of a gang, and local media reported that the police response had been slow, prompting concerns that corruption was involved. AFP

Monsoon floods sink one-third of Pakistan

Toll reaches 1, 136, swollen rivers wash away roads, bridges; vast farmlands turned into landscapes of water

ISLAMABAD

A third of Pakistan is under water as a result of flooding caused by record monsoon rains, the country's Climate Change Minister Sherry Rehman said on Monday, calling it a "crisis of unimaginable proportions".

Officials say at least 33 million people — one in every seven Pakistanis — have been affected by the floods, which have killed 1,136 people since the monsoon began in June.

Vast parts of farmland in southern Sindh and western Balochistan provinces are now just landscapes of water, while in the north, roads and bridges have been washed away by raging mountain rivers.

"To see the devastation on the ground is really mind-boggling," Rehman told AFP in an interview. "When we send in water pumps, they say 'Where do we pump the water?' It's all one big ocean, there's no dry land to pump the water out."

Rehman said "literally a third" of Pakistan was under water, describing it as akin to a dystopian movie.

She also expected the death toll to rise as many areas in the north of the country, where dozens of rivers are still in full flood, remain cut off.

People prepare to leave their flooded home after heavy monsoon rains in Charsadda district of Pakistan's Khyber Pakhtunkhwa on Monday | AFP

Rehman renewed the government's appeal for international assistance, while also blaming major industrialised countries for their role in global warming. Pakistan is responsible for less than one percent of global greenhouse gas emissions, but is eighth on a list compiled by the NGO Germanwatch of countries deemed most vulnerable to extreme weather caused by climate change.

"It's time for the big emitters to review their policies. We have crossed what is clearly a threshold," she said.

"The multilateral forum pledges or ambitions voiced by other countries — the rich countries, that have gotten rich on the back of fossil fuels — they don't really come through." Rehman said Pakistan's economy, already in crisis, would be badly hit by the flooding. "Sindh is half of Pakistan's breadbasket and will not be able to grow anything at all next season," she predicted.

"Not only will our exports be impacted, but our food security will take a hit."

Rehman said a proper assessment of the damage caused by the flooding would take time. "Right now, after everyone is rescued, we will be feeding and providing cooked meals and shelter," she said. AFP

With crops destroyed, Pak ready to knock on India's door

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S Finance Minister Miftah Ismail on Monday said the government can consider importing vegetables and other edible items from India following the destruction of standing crops due to massive floods, three years after Islamabad downgraded trade ties with New Delhi over the Kashmir issue.

Addressing a press conference here, Ismail said the government could "consider importing vegetables and other edible items from India" to facilitate people after recent floods destroyed crops across the country, state-owned Radio Pakistan reported.

Miftah Ismail

He made the comment in response to a question.

When a journalist told him that in the past, ministers advocating trade with India had to go home, Ismail said he was not afraid of it.

"If people have to go home to protect themselves from inflation, then it is fine. As much as I am working for the improvement of the economy, I hope I will not be fired," Ismail said.

He further said that the supply of fruits and vegetables is likely to be affected due to floods. "If the supply is affected, the import of vegetables (from India) will have to be opened. If we have to import vegetables from India, we will do so," he said.

Pakistan downgraded its trade relations with India in August 2019 after India's decision to revoke Article 370 that granted a special status to Jammu and Kashmir.

Jawaad Rizvi, a wholesale dealer of Lahore market, told PTI that on Sunday, per kilogram of tomato and onion were available in Lahore's markets at around Rs500 and R s400 respectively. He said that in the coming days the prices of commodities will increase further as the supply of vegetables from Balochistan, Sindh and south Punjab has been affected. PTI

SHAFT DAMAGED

UK's biggest aircraft carrier breaks down on way to US

LONDON

THE UK's biggest aircraft carrier, HMS Prince of Wales, has broken down off the south coast of England after setting sail from Portsmouth Naval Base for the US on what the Royal Navy has described as a 'landmark' aviation trial mission.

The warship was said to be experiencing an "emerging mechanical issue" and the problem is being investigated. The GBP 3 billion carrier, which became fully operational last year, is reportedly anchored southeast of the Isle of Wight while the investigation is carried out.

"HMS Prince of Wales remains in the South Coast Exercise Area while conducting investigations into an emerging mechanical issue," a Royal Navy spokesperson said.

The problem was first reported by UK Defence Journal, an online news site focused on defence issues, which cited unconfirmed reports about damage to the starboard propeller shaft. AFP

BATTERY PRODUCTION

Reliance aims to start production of battery packs by 2023 and scale up to a fully integrated 5 GWh annual cell to pack manufacturing facility by 2024. It will further scale up to 50 GWh annual capacity by 2027

RETAIL

Meta and Jio Platforms announced the launch of the first-ever end-to-end shopping experience on WhatsApp

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

RELIANCE INDUSTRIES (RIL) Chairman Mukesh Ambani on Monday said Jio will launch its 5G services in multiple key cities including Delhi, Mumbai, Kolkata and Chennai by Diwali and will connect every town, every taluka and every tehsil of the country by December 2023.

The company has earmarked a total investment of ₹2 lakh crore to rollout 5G network in India. "By December 2023, which is less than 18 months from today, we will deliver Jio 5G to every town, every taluka, and every tehsil of our country," said Ambani.

Talking about the modalities of its 5G services, the RIL Chairman said Jio 5G will be the world's largest and most advanced 5G network. The other operators are deploying a version of 5G, called non-standalone 5G, which is essentially a 5G radio signal delivered over an existing 4G infrastructure.

In sharp contrast, he said Jio will deploy the latest version of 5G called Stand-Alone 5G, which has zero dependency on its 4G network. "With Stand-Alone 5G, Jio can deliver new and powerful services such as low latency connectivity, massive machine-to-machine communication, 5G voice, Edge computing and network slicing and metaverse," he added.

In the just concluded 5G spectrum auction, Jio was the only telco that had bid for pricey 700 MHz low-band spectrum, which is essential for deep indoor coverage. The company is also working closely with all the leading global smartphone OEMs (original equipment manufacturers) to speed up quick 5G deployment in the county and it has already partnered with Qualcomm.

Jio had also coming up with indigenously-developed 5G stacks, which is fully cloud native, software-managed, with support for even advanced features like Quantum Security. Amabahi said this is fully developed in-house by 2,000-plus young Jio engineers in the past three years. Currently, Jio has over 121 million mobile broadband subscribers on its 4G network, which consume on average nearly 20 GB of broadband data every month. "We are committed to make India the largest data-powered economy in the world, even ahead of China and the US," he added.

Talking about the fixed broadband services, Ambani said with nearly 20 million connections, India is ranked lowly 138 in the world in fixed broadband adoption. Thus, Jio will help India to be among the top 10 global players in fixed broadband adoption.

Ambani said today Jio's fibre optic network is of more than 11 lakh route kilometres in length, enough to go around the planet Earth, more than 27 times over the past year. The company said Reliance added 2.32 lakh jobs across all its businesses with Reliance Retail becoming one of the largest employers in the country.

Contours of Reliance succession emerge

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

MUKESH Ambani, the chairman and managing director of Reliance Industries Ltd (RIL), on Monday outlined the succession plan at India's most valued company. Speaking to shareholders at RIL's 45th annual general meeting on Monday, Ambani said his elder siblings Akash and Isha (twins) have assumed leadership roles in Reliance Jio and Reliance Retail, respectively, while his youngest son Anant is set to take over the new energy business.

The billionaire, however, did not divulge who would get the bread-and-butter oil-to-chemical (O2C) business.

Isha, who is married to Anand Piramal of the Piramal Group, has majored in psychology and South Asian studies from Yale University. Akash and Anant have graduated from Brown University in the US.

Akash and Isha have significant experience in their domain as they had joined the boards of Reliance Jio Infocomm Ltd and Reliance Retail Ventures Ltd as directors way back in October 2014. As for Anant, he will be leading RIL's ambitious foray into green energy with a planned capital expenditure of $10 billion. He will face stiff competition from rival billionaire Gautam Adani-led Adani Group.

This, however, doesn't mean Mukesh will retire soon as he will "continue to provide hands-on leadership".

The transition is happening two decades after the bitter battle between Mukesh and his younger brother Anil after their father Dhirubhai died without leaving a will. Mukesh is trying to avoid such a conflict by putting in place a smooth succession plan.

Stake of Adani in NDTV now valued at ₹832 cr

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

AS NDTV share prices continue to surge, a 29% stake in the publicly-listed broadcaster is now valued at ₹832 crore.

This amount is seven times more than ₹114 crore that the Adani Group paid to acquire Vishvapradhan Commercial Pvt Ltd (VCPL), which indirectly held a 29.18% stake in NDTV.

NDTV share prices on Monday closed at Rs 445 apiece and its market capitalization stood at ₹2,868 crore.

In the last 5 sessions, the stock has surged 23% and so far in 2022 it has advanced 287%.

The current value of 29% stake is also more than twice the ₹403 crore interest-free loan that was given by VCPL to NDTV's founder-promoters Prannoy Roy and Radhika Roy in 2009 for a period of 10 years.

However, with the loan the amount yet to be repaid, VCPL, now owned by the Adani Group, has exercised warrants to take over RRPR Holding Private Limited, the holding company of the Roys, through which they hold a 29.18% stake in the media outlet. The Roys are yet to convert the warrants into equity.

Post acquiring a 29% stake in NDTV, the Adanis have plans to launch an open offer to acquire an additional 26% stake in the company.

They have offered a price of ₹294 per share, which may be too low to lure sellers.

"Most informed investors may not offer the shares of NDTV in the offer as the market price is much above the offer price. Investors who do not offer the shares in the offer may sell the shares in the market now or wait for even better valuation under the new owners over the next few years," said Deepak Jasani, Head of Retail Research, HDFC Securities.

He added, "The acquirer shall not acquire any equity shares after the third (3rd) working day prior to the commencement of the tendering period and until the expiry of the tendering period. Only after the tendering period closes, they can do a creeping acquisition of a total of upto 5% equity in a financial year."

Sensex skids below 58,000 after Fed Chair hints at rate hike

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

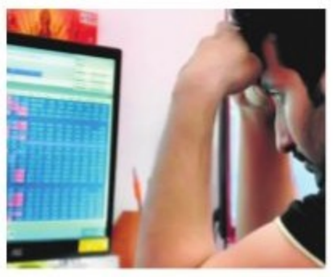
INDIA'S equity market shed nearly 1.5% points on Monday, following the Federal Reserve chief Jerome Powell's ultra-hawkish tone on Friday in which he indicated the Fed will continue to impose large interest rate hikes in the coming months, as they are focused on taming inflation.

Sensex tanked 861 points to close the Monday session at 57,972, while the broader Nifty closed 246 points lower at 17,312. Sensex crashed nearly 1,500 points in early trades before recovering some ground.

Owing to this fall, investors' wealth fell by ₹2.39 lakh crore as the market capitalisation of BSE-listed firms eroded by ₹2.39 lakh crore to ₹274.56 lakh crore.

Tech Mahindra was the biggest laggard in the Sensex pack, falling 4.57%, followed by other IT stocks such as Infosys, Wipro, HCL Technologies and Tata Consultancy Services. Kotak Mahindra Bank, Tata Steel, Axis Bank, ICICI Bank and State Bank of India were other major laggards.

Top banker and CEO of Kotak Mahindra Bank Uday Kotak on Monday warned of a sharp correction in the equity market. "Federal Reserve Chairman Powell finally spoke firmly to fight inflation. Reminds us of Paul Volcker who broke the back of US inflation in 1970s/80s. Watch out for quantitative tightening (QT). US rules the financial world. Opiated markets will wake up and smell the coffee!" he said in a tweet.



While the Fed Chairman didn't hint at what the central bank might do at its upcoming September 20-21 policy meeting, global trade pundits expect a 50-75 basis-point hike in the key interest rate.

"Powell's hawkish tone during the Jackson Hole symposium pointed towards a stricter rate hike while investors were expecting a milder policy action post the release of the softer July inflation reading. This has increased concern about an economic slowdown, which has caused a significant sell-off in the US market and spillover effects on markets around the world," said Vinod Nair, head of Research at Geojit Financial Services. The sell-off in emerging markets like India was exacerbated on Monday by concerns over the possible withdrawal of foreign funds, which was the backbone of the recent market rally.

Rupee hits record low after hawkish statement by US Federal Reserves

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

RUPEE fell below 80-mark against the US dollar on Monday after the US Fed issued a hawkish statement amid recession and slowdown fears. It fell to a record low of 80.24 against the USD in the early trade, 40 paise down from the previous close of 79.84 on Friday.

However, rupee regained some ground to end at 79.927. Fed Chairman Jerome Powell at the Jackson Hole symposium said Friday the US economy will need tight monetary policy for some time in order to control inflation. "Reducing inflation is likely to require a sustained period of below-trend growth. Moreover, there will likely be some softening of labour market conditions. While higher rates, slower growth, and softer labour market conditions will bring down inflation, they will bring some pain to households and businesses," Powell said on Friday. "The hardening US Treasury yields and strong USD post the Fed reinforcement to fight inflation has led to INR dropping to fresh record lows today," said a report from Kotak Mahindra Bank. Analysts now expect the rupee to trade in 79.50-81 range. "We expect the USDINR(Spot) to trade sideways with a positive bias and quote in range of 79.70 and 80.50," said Gaurang Somaiya, Forex & Bullion Analyst, Motilal Oswal Financial Services.

'Govt has no plan to ban production of Chinese phones below ₹12,000'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DISPELLING speculation that the Indian government is planning to ban manufacturing of Chinese smartphones below ₹12,000, Minister of State for Electronics & Information Technology Rajeev Chandrasekhar on Monday said the government has no such plan to ban Chinese mobiles under ₹12,000.

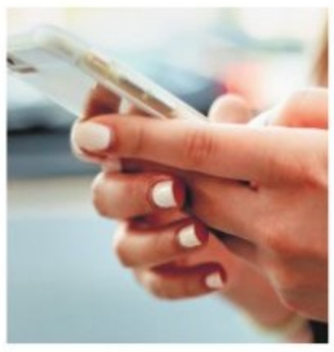
The minister, however, said that measures would be taken to ensure space for Indian companies and suppliers. "Wherever we feel that Indian brands are being crowded out due to unfair practices we will intervene," said the minister.

He was answering media queries after launching a report titled as 'Globalise to Localise: Exporting at Scale and Deepening the Ecosystem are Vital to Higher Domestic Value Addition'. "In our scheme of things, there is space for Indian brands. In our electronics supply chain, Indian brands, Indian entrepreneurs also have a role to play." "It is not about exclusion of foreign suppliers or foreign brands but we believe that it is our policy and the government of India's obligatory duty to build Indian brands," the minister said

There were reports that the government was mulling a policy to restrict Chinese smartphone companies from dominating the below ₹12,000 market segment. The move would have given a major dent to Chinese mobile makers as smartphones under ₹12,000 accounts for one-third of the country's total sales of smartphones. According to the market tracker Counterpoint Research, Chinese companies contribute nearly 80% of shipments in this segment. Talking about the report, the minister said that the report will help the government identify the challenges that are to be met and the strategies that are to be adopted to achieve the target of $300 billion electronic production by 2026.

Highlighting the shift in global value chains in recent years, the minister further said that post-COVID the value chains of electronics are undergoing deep irreversible changes. It presents to India the current momentum and opportunity, which is explained by the $120 billion export target that India has for 2026.

"The government is laser focused on achieving the target of $300 billion electronic production by 2026. And for this, we have always emphasised on strengthening our domestic manufacturing ecosystem to make India more resilient to supply chain disruptions. Our aim is to emerge as a reliable and trusted partner in global value chains," said the minister. Chandrasekhar said the industry has submitted its report on requirements for increasing domestic value addition which will be considered for taking appropriate steps.



It is not about exclusion of foreign suppliers or foreign brands but we believe that it is our policy and the government of India's obligatory duty to build Indian brands

Godrej Appliances targets ₹5,500 cr turnover driven by premium segment

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

CONSUMER durables major Godrej Appliances is targeting a turnover of ₹5,500 crore in 2022-23, a 35% growth as compared to the pre-pandemic year 2019-20.

Kamal Nandi, business head and executive vice-president at Godrej Appliances, part of Godrej & Boyce, in an interaction with TNIE said that the company has witnessed 52% growth in volume and nearly 70% growth in value in comparison to the same period last year. "We estimate the second-half of the year to be better than the first-half as we are projecting inflation to be controlled and commodities to soften. We anticipate that the mass segment consumers who are postponing purchases now will come forward during the festive season and expect improvement in discretionary spending," Nandi said. Inflation has affected consumer sentiment in the mass segments even as premium segments are buoyant, according to Nandi. The premium mix in the total contribution is expected to double this year, compared to pre-pandemic years, he notes. "The premium growth is being seen across town classes. Catering to this demand from tier 3 and 4 cities, we have opened more than 135 exclusive brand stores – the Godrej Inspire Hubs, which have been seeing close to a third of their sales coming from premium segments."

Festive sales usually comprise around 28 – 30% of the annual sales for the company. This year in Q2 FY 22-23 during Onam festivities, Nandi says, they are targeting over 30% growth over last year as well as pre-pandemic growth. He, however, adds the festive target setting for larger countries will depend on how the monsoons fare overall and the consumer sentiment over the next month or so.

Indian Olympic Association in executive mess

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

THE tussle between the two factions in the Indian Olympic Association is getting more intriguing. Athletics Federation of India president Adille Sumariwalla wrote to the International Olympic Committee that he has been elected by the majority of executive council members as per IOA's constitution and assumed office since Saturday. The faction led by IOA secretary general Rajeev Mehta cried foul and acting president Anil Khanna said it could be a violation of Supreme Court and Delhi High Court order.

Like when Delhi HC brought in sweeping changes and had asked Committee of Administrators to take over the IOA, the International Olympic Committee (IOC), this time too is following the development. When asked whether IOC have received a letter from Sumariwalla informing them that he has taken over as the president of IOA after the majority of executive committee members requested him to, IOC said, "The IOC Executive Board will be updated about the situation on the occasion of its next meeting (8 to 9 September 2022)."

The issue is getting complex after Mehta faction had said that executive council did not exist. Most IOA members are peeved and said if the EC doesn't exist after November 14 (when the term EC ended), then how is the IOA functioning? Because the secretary general too is part of the EC. Even the IOC is communicating with the EC. Members pointed out that even the letter dated July 20, when it warned of suspension if election process under the old constitution was not initiated, IOC addressed it to the IOA EC members (to All Members of the Executive Council of the IOA) and not the secretary or acting president. Also who would send teams to Commonwealth Games?

Sumariwalla said the acting president's statement on violation of court orders was misleading. He sent a letter to Khanna and EC members and pointed out the constitution violations on the part of Khanna. He said that the court did not appoint him but was informed by the IOA counsel that he as senior vice-president has taken over as acting president after Batra vacated his post. "Executive council exists," he said. "When you are not calling for an EC meeting as asked by the members this is bound to happen. Khanna appointment was not ratified by the EC as was the norm. So the EC elected me to lead IOA. My colleagues have given me a duty and I have to oblige," Sumariwalla said.

Khanna, on the other hand did not want to be drawn into the debate of EC. Nor did he want to talk about the letter. "What letter" he asked. "We are not concentrating on other things now. We are focussed on hosting the best National Games ever in Gujarat. We are working closely with the Government of India and state government. We have written to all sports federations to cooperate, which they will."

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

INDIAN tennis has not had it this good in a long time. The country has a guaranteed 250-level event in both tours (WTA and ATP). Indian tennis has not had it this bad in a long time. After featuring in at least one Slam a year over the last few years — not a proud record but still something to cling on to — that streak has been consigned to the dustbin. When the first round began on Monday, this was confirmed. Not a single men's or women's singles player featured in the first round of a Major. In. All. Of. 2022.

It's also a fair reflection as to the state of men's and women's singles players in the country. Without Sumit Nagal's wild card at the 2021 Australian Open, India would have completed two full years without a single representative in the sport's showpiece.

While sportspersons in other fields have set historic feats in the recent past, in tennis, the history aspect is still being brought by trendsetters and trailblazers of the previous century. One of those, Vijay Amritraj, is still baffled by the fact that he was the last Indian men's singles player to play on centre court at Wimbledon. "For me, it always means so much to be able to tell a child or a kid that 'listen, sport is going to teach you more about the world than anything else. Do it just for yourself. You bust your chops to be the best you can (be). That's why, the last men's singles guy to play singles on centre court at Wimbledon is still me, before any of you were born. It's embarrassing. That's my point."

CO2 storage project by oil firms signs first big deal

ENERGY

PARIS: A carbon storage project owned by three major European oil firms has secured its first commercial deal in what they billed Monday as a "major milestone" in the decarbonisation of heavy industry. Northern Lights—owned by France's TotalEnergies, Norway's Equinor and Anglo-Dutch giant Shell—reached an agreement to transport and store carbon dioxide captured from Yara Sluiskil, an ammonia and fertiliser plant in the Netherlands.

From early 2025, 800,000 tonnes of CO2 per year will be captured, compressed and liquefied in the Netherlands.

It will then be transported by ship to the Northern Lights site in Norway to be buried some 2,600 metres under the seabed off the coast of Oygarden.

"This agreement, the first of its kind worldwide, is a major milestone in the decarbonisation of heavy industry in Europe, paving the way for international CO2 transport and storage as a service," TotalEnergies said in a statement.

Northern Lights managing director Borre Jacobsen said the agreement "will establish a market for CO2 transport and storage". The facilities for the first phase of the project are scheduled to come on stream in 2024, with the capacity to handle 1.5 million tonnes of CO2 per year.

In its latest baseline report on climate change, United Nations said the world will need to capture and store CO2 from the air and oceans regardless of the rate at which countries succeed at reducing their greenhouse gas emissions.

BONES OF BRACHIOSAURUS

Researchers studied the bones and discovered that they belonged to a brachiosaurid sauropod that lived 160-100 million years ago. The reptile was 12 metres high and 25 metres long

150 MILLION YEARS OLD

Because the bones were found in Upper Jurassic sedimentary rocks, researchers believe they are around 150 million years old

SAUROPOD GROUP

The Sauropod group were herbivores. Brontosaurus and diplodocus are a part of the sauropod group. Sauropods have characteristically long necks and tails and are among the largest animals to have ever lived. Not only were they the largest of all dinosaurs but they were also the largest land animals. The fossils are thought to be of a brachiosaurid who lived during the Upper Jurassic period

THE LARGEST SAUROPOD DINOSAUR EVER

According to Daily Mail, this could be the largest sauropod dinosaur—a subgroup characterised by their four legs, long neck and tail and herbivorous diet—ever to be found in Europe

DISCOVERED IN PORTUGAL

The remains were found in a garden in Portugal. The owner of property noticed some fossilized bones in his backyard when he was doing construction work and immediately let his find be known to a research team. The excavation was carried out in 2017 in the city of Pombal, Portugal

A LUCKY FIND

Elisabete Malafaia, post-doctoral researcher at the Faculty of Sciences of the University of Lisbon said, "It is not usual to find all the ribs of an animal like this, let alone in this position, maintaining their original anatomical position"

APPEARING IN TRIASSIC PERIOD

Sauropods first appeared in the late Triassic Period, and by the Late Jurassic period, 150 million years ago, sauropods had become widespread

AXIAL SKELETON| CURRENTLY, ELEMENTS OF AXIAL SKELETON HAVE BEEN DISCOVERED AT THE SITE. THE BONES INCLUDE VERTEBRAE AND RIBS WHICH LED THE RESEARCHERS TO DETERMINE IT WAS A BRACHIOSAURID

Historic Moon launch aborted due to engine issues

Alternative dates for the launch of the US space agency's uncrewed Artemis 1 mission was declared as Friday and next Monday

SPACE

KENNEDY SPACE CENTER: NASA called off a test flight on Monday of its largest-ever rocket in a setback to the ambitious programme to send humans back to the Moon and eventually to Mars.

"We don't launch until it's right," NASA administrator Bill Nelson said after an engine temperature issue forced liftoff from Kennedy Space Center to be scrubbed.

"This is a very complicated machine," Nelson said. "You don't want to light the candle until it's ready to go."

Alternative dates for launch of the US space agency's uncrewed Artemis 1 mission are Friday and next Monday.

Blastoff had been planned for 8:33 am but was cancelled because of a temperature problem with one of the four RS-25 engines on the 98-metre Space Launch System (SLS) rocket.

NASA said a test to get one of the engines to the proper temperature range for liftoff was not successful.

It said the SLS rocket and Orion crew capsule which sits on top "remain in a safe and stable configuration."

Nelson said delays were "just part of the space business" and expressed confidence that NASA engineers will "get it fixed and then we'll fly."

Tens of thousands of people —including US Vice President Kamala Harris—had gathered near the Kennedy Space Center in Florida to watch the launch, which comes 50 years after Apollo 17 astronauts last set foot on the Moon.

The goal of the flight is to test the SLS and Orion crew capsule. Mannequins equipped with sensors are standing in for a crew for the mission.

Overnight operations to fill the orange-and-white rocket with more than three million liters of ultra-cold liquid hydrogen and oxygen were briefly delayed by a high risk of lightning.

NASAs Artemis I rocket sits on launch pad 39-B at Kennedy Space Center after its launch was scrubbed on Monday | AFP

Around 3:00 am, another hiccup emerged: a potential leak was detected during the filling of the main stage with hydrogen, causing a pause. After tests, the flow resumed.

NASA engineers later detected the engine temperature problem and put a hold on the countdown before eventually scrubbing the launch.

The rocket's Orion capsule is to orbit the Moon to see if the vessel is safe for people in the near future. At some point, Artemis aims to put a woman and a person of colour on the Moon for the first time. During the 42-day trip, the Orion capsule will orbit the Moon, coming within 100 kilometres at its closest approach, and then fire its engines to shoot out 40,000 miles—a record for a spacecraft rated to carry humans.

One of the mission's primary objectives is to test the capsule's heat shield, which at 16 feet in diameter is the largest to ever be built. On its return to Earth's atmosphere, the heat shield will have to withstand speeds of 25,000 miles per hour and a temperature of 2,760 degrees Celsius—roughly half as hot as the Sun. The dummies aboard the spacecraft will record acceleration, vibration and radiation levels.

The craft will also deploy small satellites to study the lunar surface. A complete failure would be devastating for a programme costing $4.1 billion per launch that is already years behind schedule.

The next mission, Artemis 2, will take astronauts into orbit around the Moon without landing on its surface. The crew of Artemis 3 is to land on the Moon in 2025 at the earliest.

Artemis has its sights set on another lofty goal: a crewed mission to Mars. The Artemis programme is to establish a lasting human presence on the Moon with an orbiting space station known as Gateway and a base on the surface.

Spain tries to turn into EU energy hub

ENERGY

MADRID: With Europe facing a major energy crisis, Spain wants to become the new gateway for gas through an ambitious trans-Pyrenees pipeline and is hoping supply-starved Germany will pressure a reluctant France.

Madrid has long been hoping for the revival of plans to build a pipeline connecting the Iberian Peninsula via France to central Europe, which was abandoned in 2019 over regulatory and funding issues.

But Russia's war on Ukraine and its reduction of gas deliveries to Europe has revived interest in the project, notably from Germany, with Chancellor Olaf Scholz saying such a pipeline could make "a massive contribution" to easing the supply crisis.

He has invited Spain's Pedro Sanchez for talks on Tuesday with energy likely to be a key issue. Beyond the gas crisis, Spain is hoping that improving its connectivity with the rest of Europe will open the way for it to become the European Union's new hub for green hydrogen—a key energy source of the future.

And for that, a pipeline across the Pyrenees would be crucial.

In 2013, work began on the so-called MidCat project, a pipeline linking Spain's northeastern region of Catalonia to the south of France through the Pyrenees, aimed at connecting Spain and Portugal to central Europe's gas network.

Six years later it was dropped by regulators in France and Spain over its environmental impact and lack of economic viability. And despite the ongoing energy crisis, France has been decidedly unenthusiastic about reviving the project.

But that has done little to cool the ardour of the Spanish premier, who is determined it will go ahead—even if it means resorting to "plan B": building an underwater connection to Italy, he said in Bogota last week.

Ecology Minister Teresa Ribera told Antena 3 television last week the Italian alternative was being studied, but admitted it would be best to go for "the easiest option... across the Pyrenees", saying such a pipeline "could be operational by late 2023 or early 2024".

China's think tank slams Covid policy

ECONOMY

BEIJING: A Chinese think tank issued a rare public disagreement Monday with the ruling Communist Party's severe "zero Covid" policy, saying curbs that shut down cities and disrupt trade, travel and industry must change to prevent an "economic stall."

The Anbound Research Center gave no details of possible changes but said President Xi Jinping's government needs to focus on shoring up sinking growth. It noted the United States, Europe and Japan are recovering economically after easing anti-disease curbs.

"Preventing the risk of economic stall should be the priority task," the think tank said in a report titled, "It's Time for China to Adjust Its Virus Control and Prevention Policies."

Even such mild public disagreement with official policy is almost unknown in a politically sensitive year when Xi, China's most powerful leader since at least the 1980s, is expected to try to extend his time in office.

The report, was posted on the Anbound Research Center's accounts on the popular WeChat messaging platform and the Sina Weibo microblog service but was deleted later.

FACT OF THE MATTER

China's factory power restored

HEATWAVE

The southwestern Chinese province of Sichuan downgraded emergency energy supply measures on Monday, restoring power to some factories after weeks of rolling blackouts due to a heatwave-induced shortage. Parts of Sichuan province and neighbouring Chongqing saw rainfall and lower temperatures beginning Sunday, after weeks of record temperatures higher than 40 Celsius and a crippling drought that strained hydropower generators throughout the region. "Reservoir water levels are gradually increasing and the power supply capacity has improved," the Sichuan government announced adding that the power supply crisis had been "alleviated to a certain extent".

EU plans to halt energy price rise

INFLATION

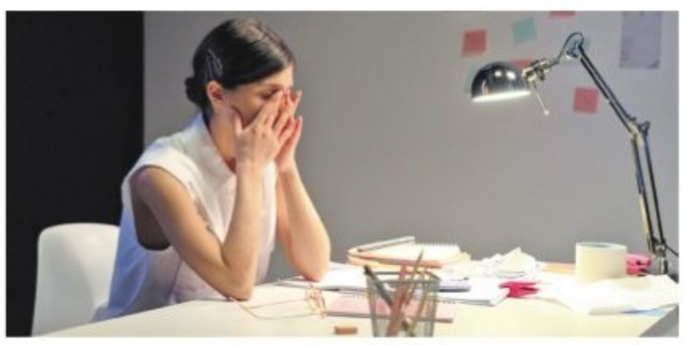
The European Union is preparing to take emergency action to reform the electricity market and get a grip on energy prices that have soared since Russia invaded Ukraine, senior officials said Monday. Energy ministers from EU member states will hold urgent talks in Brussels on September 9. High gas prices have been followed by disruptions in the nuclear and hydroelectric sectors amid a heatwave blamed on climate change —threatening businesses and households with massive bills. "The skyrocketing electricity prices are now exposing the limitations of our current electricity market design," EU Commission president Ursula von der Leyen told a forum in Bled, Slovenia.

FROWNING ON HUSTLE CULTURE

Quiet quitting raising a din in stressful US workplaces

STRESS

WASHINGTON: They are drawing a line at the 40-hour work week, limiting after-hours calls and emails and generally, if softly, saying "no" more often—some American workers are embracing the concept of "quiet quitting" as they push back against what some see as the stifling trap of constant connectivity.



Maggie Perkins—who lives in Athens, Georgia—was racking up 60-hour weeks as a matter of course in her job as a teacher, but the 30-year-old realised after her first child was born that something was very wrong.

"There's pictures of me grading papers on an airplane on the way to vacation. I did not have a work-life balance," Perkins explains in a TikTok video about how she chose—though she did not have a name for it back then—to begin "quiet quitting." Perkins told AFP she eventually left her job to pursue a PhD, but remains an advocate for her former colleagues —producing videos and podcasts with practical tips on making their workload fit inside their workday.

"Adopting this 'quiet quitting' mindset really just means that you are establishing a boundary that helps you to do your job when you are paid to do it—and then you can leave that, and go home and be a human with your family," she says. The buzzword seems to have first surfaced in a July TikTok post. In the words of user @zaidleppelin, "You're not outright quitting your job but you're quitting the idea of going above and beyond. You're still performing your duties but you're no longer subscribing to the hustle culture mentality that work has to be your life."

That post went viral, drawing nearly a half-million likes.

Are "quiet quitters" merely trying to draw boundaries in pursuit of a reasonable work-life balance, more associated with a European lifestyle than with always-on US work culture? Are they slackers with a trendy new name? Or are they people at risk of burnout ?

E-pay system revolutionizing Brazil

TECH

When Brazil's central bank announced in 2020 it was launching a free electronic payments system called PIX, many people had no idea what it was talking about. Today, instant transfers are so ubiquitous, Brazilians use them tens of millions of times a day, for everything from paying the rent to buying groceries to giving money to beggars on the street. In under two years, PIX has become the most popular form of payment in Brazil, surpassing credit and debit cards —the first time a government-run alternative to plastic has been successfully implemented in Latin America. Analysts say that the huge number of smart phones in Brazil—more than one for each of the country's 213 million people—and government aid payments to 20.2 million beneficiaries have fueled the system's takeoff. PIX is so popular it has become a campaign issue in Brazil's October elections.

ACTOR-POET ARUNODAY SINGH KEEPS IT QUIRKY AND CANDID AS HE SPEAKS ABOUT HIS BOOK OF POEMS UNSUNG, HIS MUSE AND HIS ACTING CAREER

THE DASHING 'SUFISOUL'

MONIKA MONALISA

IT was a packed session at the recently-concluded Bengaluru Poetry Festival. It's hard to blame the crowd, when a dashing Arunoday Singh, was on the stage reading poems from his book Unsung, published by Penguin Random House. During the discussion, Singh mentioned the mere existence of the book is an achievement for him, but the way his fans had specific questions about the poems in the book, made it seem like Unsung had reached more people than 'just existing'.

Poems could be tricky to convey thoughts in a concise manner, but Singh says the words and ideas are unplanned and he goes with the flow, with probably Pink Floyd playing in the background. "Earlier, I used to need muses but now I am the muse. The 'you' that you read in my poem is the person in the mirror. I am glad it resonates with many but all my poems are written for me," says Singh, who goes by 'sufisoul' on his Instagram handle.

He agrees that writing happens in the most unglamorous way but, it can help if you have a routine. "Just sit down, open the book and write. Keep it as uncomplicated as possible. There is no process, there is nothing I have prepared to start writing. There are always things in your brain," says Singh, adding that he has a set time either early in the morning at 5 - 5:30am or same time in the evening.

When Singh takes over the stage, it appears natural, and the way he speaks shows his command over his language. Yet, it is a conscious effort from his side to keep his poems short and simple. "I have a fabulous vocabulary. But what I am trying to convey does not need that. The simpler it is, the easier it is to understand. I would rather get understood than show off my vocabulary," he says.

Writers usually have a confidant to show their work but Singh has a very interesting first reader. "I post it on my handle and whoever reads it first is my first reader. And if I don't post it, nobody's opinion matters. It's not for them, it's for me," says Singh, who thanks his teachers from his school for helping him read better. Having studied in a boarding school in Kodaikanal, not very far from Bengaluru, he used to visit the city quite often. "I used to visit the city more when I was a kid but my father's brother has always lived here. I have visited Bengaluru on school trips, I used to play sports so some inter-school tournaments were here. I don't come too often now although I should. It's a lovely city," he adds with a smile.

Besides being a writer, Singh is also an actor. Having been part of many movies and projects, Singh is probably most remembered as the dashing Dhruv Singh from the 2010 movie Aisha. However, he is hardly seen on screen these days. "I need to be offered decent roles. I am tired of doing the same kind of things. Just some general villain who is being mean for no reason which I can't understand. They don't write them well, there is no story arc. It is fun once in a while but now I am being more selfish. I deserve better so I am getting better," says Singh.

Earlier, I used to need muses but now I am the muse. The 'you' that you read in my poem is the person in the mirror. I am glad it resonates with many but all my poems are written for me

20-feet Ganesha installation created with 10,000 notebooks

On the occasion of Ganesh Chaturthi, Global Malls, Rajajinagar, has partnered with self-taught sculptor and Guinness Record Holder, Kalyan S Rathore to create a 20-feet installation of Ganesha using 10,000 notebooks. Rathore began making the 20-feet long idol in the mall on August 24. This was done in an effort to show the people the amount of work that went into the making of idols for them to celebrate the festival. Prioritising sustainability, the initiative looked to make the idol using eco-friendly materials, particularly notebooks. After the occasion, the notebooks will be distributed to children in government schools across Bengaluru as an effort to aid the education of underprivileged children. When asked about his work, Rathore commented on how he wished to incorporate a green and community message with the ethos of the festival. Though it was an abstract sculpture, it "stems from computational design methods, aimed at a confluence of art and maths. Importantly, if this activity helps make a small yet meaningful change to thousands of children, that is the biggest prayer we can give to the lord," said Rathore.

THE MAN WITH MANY FACES

Ahead of his upcoming release, Cobra, Vikram opens up about the action-entertainer, its similarities with his previous hits and more

A SHARADHAA

Vikram, who's delivered many unforgettable performances in his career, including in films like Sethu, Pithamagan, and Anniyan, will be scripting a new milestone with his upcoming release Cobra. The film will mark his first multi-lingual release in a career spanning over two decades.

The actor reveals that the remarkable success of the KGF franchise, which turned out to be a beacon of hope for the film industry still reeling from the effects of the pandemic, motivated them to aim for a pan-India release.

"The pan-India release wasn't that big a concept when Cobra was in the initial stages of discussion. It is because of films like KGF and Baahubali that we no longer feel restricted to any one language. I'm glad that Cobra will also be my first film to be dubbed in other languages, including Kannada," says Vikram.

In a recent media interaction, the actor spoke about his association with Cobra's director, his love and compulsion for appearing in multiple get-ups, the hours that go behind the make-up, and more.

Excerpts

The rushes of Cobra have people comparing it with your previous films, Anniyan and Samurai. Does Cobra have similar elements?

The similarity between Anniyan and Cobra is that both are psychological thrillers. However, Cobra has elements of science fiction and drama. I have donned different get-ups in many of my films. Hence, the audience tends to connect this with my previous performances. I can assure you that Cobra is unique.

It is one of those journeys across the river Ganga, its unforgettable sights and unique sounds which have been captured in the six-episode series of Songs of the River on Disney+Hotstar, which was released recently. The life of a music composer and his struggles during the adventure-filled journey were the primary fuel behind the scenes. "There is no better inspiration for creating music than life. The four walls of a music studio cannot do justice to the same," says producer-presenter of the show Shantanu Moitra. "A new composition comes to mind when a person is travelling," explains Moitra, adding that any new atmosphere propels ideas to create music.

Recalling his days in Bollywood, the Parineeta, Lage Raho Munna Bhai-fame composer said there was no time in the fast-paced Mumbai life to travel and compose, which compelled him to go back to it and pursue his passion. "I will always be stuck and will be feeding off of myself with nothing new coming out, if I don't go back to travelling now," he says.

The fascination of discovering the multifaceted Ganga dragged him to embark on this journey. "I set out on this journey thinking about myself, my accomplishments, my fathers' loss, and as a tribute to all others who lost their loved ones to Covid-19. I wanted to pay a tribute to them and include them in my journey," he notes, and the experiences formed the foundation of the Songs of the River".

Singers Mohit Chauhan, Ambi Subramaniam, Kaushiki Chakraborty, Bombay Jayashri, Taba Chake, Maati Baani, Sid Sriram collaborated with Moitra for the series to churn out six six beautiful compositions. The singers were selected because they cannot be classified as only artistes but were among those people who had tried to help others in need during the pandemic, Moitra said.

Ambi was the only non-vocalist on the show. While sharing his experiences with CE, he said the song he had composed was starkly different than what he would usually do. "We shot in Murshidabad. The place has lost its glory but it was prosperous before the British Raj," he recalled.

The crew had an opportunity to stay on a boat which entailed existing in stunning silence, and sharing stories with each other was an experience he would take home from the show. "It was a huge healing aspect of the trip. It changed my entire mental framework amid what was happening at that time during Covid-19 pandemic, and proved to be extremely helpful."

To start off, Moitra traversed 3,000 km on his cycle to Gangasagar, continuing to Uttarkashi encountering torrential rain. From there, he arrives at the land of salvation in Varanasi, and in Bihar he battles health agony. At Farakka Barrage, he faces an unexpected setback. In the last episode, he reaches Mayapur in Nadia district of West Bengal.

City-based musician Ambi Subramaniam has also worked on the series

Why are you lonely?

LAST Sunday friend Kadriappa passed away. He died, all of a sudden, in his typical manner, in silence, in the company of his cows and with least fuss. He was known to me and my children for over 25 years as the person with the simplest heart, warmest welcome and most endearing smile. The caretaker of my friend's farm in Bengaluru north, Kadriappa lived with his family; a wife, their three children, a couple of cows, some four-legged Indie friends, who would invariably saunter into the family groove and make it theirs. Like his children, who were later married and went on to have their children, his family of four-legged companions also procreated as and when amplifying the Kadriappa household and its ever-expanding hospitality.

On August 21, he woke up in the wee hours of the morning, much before dawn broke to milk his cows, when the Grim Reaper picked him up for his onward journey without a warning. Now why must I write about this dear friend, a humble village person with an affable smile and the simplest heart to you readers? I had known him since 1997. His family had hosted us innumerable times at their humble abode in my friend's farm with the most delicious food cooked by his wife Thiruvamma. We used to converse with the couple late into the night around the bonfire that Kadriappa used to light under the starlit sky and in the company of silver oak and eucalyptus trees. The myriad stories he would narrate about nature, manure, seeds and the saplings that had now blossomed into full grown fruits bearing and shade providing trees had in them the uniqueness of his experience. There was invariably mention of havus (snakes), which were aplenty in the farm. "This is their land. They do no harm, amma. Only if we step on them that they bite," he convinced me about the reptiles with his invincible smile. I remember struggling to understand what havu meant when Kadriappa curled his hand into a cobra's hood to unfurl the mystery of this new word in my new language dictionary. I was new to Kannada and could not follow his narratives. I am sure he also did not follow me and my broken Kannada either. But we used to converse, and with absolute ease. Our last conversation was 10 days before he crossed over last weekend.

In his passing I have lost a friend, I could call anytime and have some random conversation. We often rue the fact that we are missing out on conversations, meeting friends because no one seems to have time for anyone else other than their mobile phones. We don't stop feeling nostalgic about the good old days when friends were plenty, life was simple and there were great conversations with them; from the intellectual stuff to the most mundane and bizarre. Gossip (goss, for the comfort of the neolinguists) included. You and I know that none of this was absolutely true. Human imagination is versatile. It creates artificial reality within nanoseconds and allows us to seek refuge in our most vulnerable moments. We are comfortable with the familiar and the strange is like the havu, we never wish to encounter.

ILLUSTRATION: SOUMYADIP SINHA

We miss out befriending or striking a conversation with strangers. The barriers of language, age, social, economic, literary and now, religious and caste status and structures prevent us from meeting new people and befriending them. Often, the joy of listening to the experiences of those, whose path we cross accidentally is simply beyond words. There are ways to come out of our self-inflicted loneliness if only we look beyond the familiar. There are human experiences that are unique to each of us. If we could listen to those stories and share ours this will not be a lonely planet.

SAMYUKTA HORNAD TO PLAY AN ADVOCATE IN LOVE BIRDS

She joins the romantic musical directed by PC Shekar which stars Krishna and Milana Nagaraj

A SHARADHAA

SAMYUKTA Hornad is the latest actor to join director PC Shekar's Love Birds. The romantic drama stars real-life couple Krishna and Milana Nagaraj. The film is currently on the floors and Samyukta has begun shooting for her role along with the other actors. Director PC Shekar shares that Samyukta's character is a catalyst of the story, and has different layers. "I play an advocate called Maya in the film," reveals Samyukta, who clarifies that Love Birds is not a triangular love story. "The film is not just about romantic relationships, it is about living life to the fullest. My character name, Maya means delusion or mystery. But she is not one, she cannot be. She has her life sorted and planned. Maya is a person who wants to make the most of everything, unlike me in real life," she gives a brief about her role.

Samyukta says that she is glad to be associating with director PC Shekar and also sharing screen space alongside Krishna and Milana Nagaraj. "I feel the role 'Maya' has come to me at the right time," she says.

Shekar's Love Birds produced by Kaddipudi Chandru is billed as a romantic musical and it also stars Rangayana Raghu, Sadhu Kokila, and Veena Sundar in prominent roles. With music director Arjun Janya association with the director for his ninth time, the film has Shakti Shekar as the cinematographer.

Apart from Love Birds, Samyukta is part of Kranti starring Darshan and directed by V Harikrishna. She will also be seen in Hondisi Bariyeri directed by Ramenahalli Jagannatha. She has Bayalu Seeme and her Telugu web series at different stages of production.

NETFLIX India revealed its slate of Hindi original films in a showcase event in Mumbai. The streamer has high-profile titles like Zoya Akhtar's The Archies, Ali Abbas Zafar's Jogi, Vasan Bala's Monica O My Darling, Vishal Bhardwaj's Khufiya, Prosit Roy's Chakda Express, Yashowardhan Mishra's Kathal and Anvita Dutt's Qala (Babil Khan's acting debut) in the offing.

Netflix also made two fresh announcements - Plan A Plan B, a comedy about a matchmaker who marries a divorce lawyer, and Chor Nikal Ke Bhaga, a heist thriller set on a plane.

In all, nine original titles were showcased, with sneak peeks and official teasers played for the press. The event was graced by the casts and creative teams behind each film. The attendees included Netflix Content VP Monika Shergill, actors Rajkummar Rao, Huma Qureshi, Riteish Deshmukh, Yami Gautam, Babil, Shefali Shah, Vijay Verma, directors Vishal Bhardwaj, Ali Abbas Zafar, producer Guneet Monga and others.

Monica O My Darling

'I expressed my interest to work with Prashanth Neel'

CObra will feature you in 8 to 9 get-ups. Are you an actor who enjoys the art of getting into different avatars and does not mind sitting long hours for makeup?

It is a compulsion. I remember spending three hours each day on makeup for Anniyan. While I had make-up artists coming from America and New Zealand for Anniyan, this time, we roped in an artist from Mumbai. We took nearly five hours on makeup for each look in Cobra. I convinced myself that I love the process. But it is actually difficult. There's a lot of itching, especially during acting. But that's what is interesting for an actor like me.

For an actor of your experience, does commercial success and positive criticism hold great weight?

Both matter, but commercial success is significant. Producers are investing more and more money. For instance, initially, KGF had a very small market. But somebody had the guts to think of it as a big, out-of-the-box film. More producers will come forward if actors can deliver.

Cobra was a project that started before the pandemic. Did the film go through any changes to adapt to current trends?

We did not make any changes as such. There was no need for that. But of course, director Ajay Gnanamuthu kept on improving the script to make Cobra what it is today.

There were reports that you would be collaborating with director Ajay Gnanamuthu after Cobra...

Before narrating Cobra, Ajay wanted me to listen to another script written by Baahubali writer, Vijayendra Prasad. At that time, I felt the story would only be suitable for Telugu audience and may not work for Tamil viewers. So, we did not take the project forward. But now, after many years when we went back to that script, we had a new perspective. So I hope it will be a perfect project to work on next.

Though pan-India films and multi-lingual releases are the new buzzwords, would you still be open to doing, say, an exclusive Kannada film?

I will. After watching KGF, I called Prashanth Neel and expressed my interest to work with him. I'm not bothered about the language of the film. When I was a struggling actor, I worked in Malayalam and Telugu films. But I have never done a Kannada film. I have got a few offers from Kannada filmmakers, including Pawan Kumar (Lucia). Pawan and I are discussing a few scripts as well. The language doesn't matter. The film does.

John, Riteish, Nora and Shehnaaz to come together for 100%

CE FEATURES

JOHN Abraham, Riteish Deshmukh, Nora Fatehi and Shehnaaz Gill will be coming together for Sajid Khan's next. The film, titled 100%, is produced by Bhushan Kumar and Amar Butala.

The film is set against the backdrop of a big Indian wedding and the crazy world of spies and it promises to be a joyride full of comedy, action and chaos. Sajid is known for directing the Housefull franchise, Humshakals and Himmatwala.

100% is expected to hit the floors in early 2023 and is slated to release in Diwali 2023.

Apart from this, John will be seen in Yash Raj Films' Pathaan alongside Shah Rukh Khan and Deepika Padukone. He is also doing Tehran and Tariq with director Arun Gopalan. Riteish has Shaad Ali's Mister Mummy in the pipeline, while Shehnaaz will feature opposite Salman Khan in Kisi Ka Bhai Kisi Ki Jaan.

Srinidhi Shetty

'Every project of mine need not be a pan-India film'

...says Srinidhi Shetty, whose back to the silver screen with her second multi-lingual and Tamil debut Cobra

CE FEATURES

AFTER KGF's massive success, Srinidhi Shetty is a part of yet-another multi-lingual Cobra. The film also marks her debut in Tamil. She says that the script, director and actor Vikram equally compelled her to sign the film. "I had watched Ajay Gnanamuthu's previous film, Imaikkaa Nodigal and liked it a lot. It was an edge-of-the-seat thriller and helped me realise the director's capabilities. As for Vikram, he is a brand by himself and that is enough to attract the audience. So everything about Cobra compelled me to take up the project," says Srinidhi,

She goes on to recall how she came on board. "The director had watched one of my interviews and approached me. Simultaneously, I got to know the splendid star cast and music by AR Rahman. I feel honoured to have worked with the team. About Vikram, Srinidhi says, "He is a legend and an inspiration.

I have grown up watching his films. I was in awe watching his performance in Cobra. On the personal front, he is a very kind person. Vikram is like a child, he always created a fun atmosphere on the sets, and he's generous. He would behave like a newcomer to make us comfortable.

A star can't be this sweet. I'm glad that my first film in Tamil is with him," says Srinidhi, who is happy to have dubbed for the Kannada version as well.

Srinidhi also states that there is no compulsion that every film of hers should be a multi-lingual. "KGF began as a Kannada film, but the end result made it a pan-India project. A film becoming pan-Indian depends on the response we get from the audience. I'm very glad that Cobra will also be released in multiple languages including Kannada and Telugu. With content being the king, language is no longer a barrier. This mindset will help films reach a wider audience. I'm now waiting to hear the people's opinion on Cobra," she says.
